GERMAN ADVANCE ON COAST REACHES A CRITICAL POINT

Invaders Are Faced by Large Army of Allied Forces — Flat Country Will Prevent Long Drawn Out Struggle for Victory, as is Going on Along Other End of Line—On to Dunkirk is German Cry.

BOTH SIDES CLAIMS ADVANTAGE IN FIGHTING

Germans Claim That Attacks of Allies Have Been Repulsed, With Heavy Losses, While French and British Official Reports Declare That Advance Has Been Made—The Situation is Still Much in the Dark.

London, Oct. 19.—The attempted advance of the German forces along the coast of Belgium and Northern France, apparently with the aim of establishing themselves in British channel ports so they may menace England, has reached a critical point. The extreme western fighting line now reaches from Arras through Roulers to Nieuport, on the coast about half way between Ostend and Dunkirk. According to the French official announcement today, German heavy artillery, presumably in the siege of Antwerp, has bombarded the front from Nieuport to Vladslo, which is about ten miles from the coast.

The allies also have made progress eastward from a point south of Arras toward Lille on a line running roughly to Arras. The report tells of house to house fighting in which the allies are advancing. The battle has raged around Arras without respite for ten days and on the part of the allied troops, "with a perseverance and a spirit which never for a moment has been relaxed."

The German official report covers these operations more tersely. It says the attacks west and northwest of Lille have been repulsed with heavy losses to the allies.

The situation still is much in the dark. English and French papers gather encouragement from reports published from their side. From the German point of view it is possible the Germans have improved their position and with the forces that besieged Antwerp and reinforcements from Germany are attempting along the coast another sweeping movement.

In this field of action it appears inevitable there soon must be some decisive result. The country's fitness seems to have made it impossible for the two armies to entrench and face each other without important change in position for weeks, as they have done across northern France.

The announcement that the Germans have taken steps to the neighborhood of Belfort may mean they plan an attempted advance on both ends of what has become virtually a long fortified line.

German official reports say the exodus from Ostend is being repeated in the flight of inhabitants from Dunkirk and Boulogne. Confirmation of this assertion has not been received here, but it is wholly possible the proximity of the Germans has created a panic at those ports.

Great battles continue in the eastern theatre between the Russian and Austrian-German forces. Reports from both sides are brief and contradictory. Petrograd claims the Russians have won partial success in severe fighting before Warsaw and Przemyel. Vienna declares the Austro-German armies have made advances in both regions and that the Russian casualties at Przemyel number 40,000.

LINE OF REFUGEES THINNER BRITISH BATTLESHIP DAMAGED.

Belgians by the Thousand Rushed Into Holland After Antwerp Fell. Roosendaal, Holland, via London, Oct. 19.—The stream of Belgian refugees an almost endless procession of panic-stricken people that has been pouring into the peaceful kingdom of The Netherlands at last is thinning. Probably 400,000 have rushed into Holland since Antwerp fell.

The little town of Eschen, where the Belgians took a fearful farewell of their country, quadrupled in population in a week. Bake shops were besieged by starving fugitives. The dilapidated railroad station, where thousands slept, was in the hands of German soldiers selling tickets to trains drawn by Belgian locomotives manned by German engineers. The Germans have been endeavoring to induce the refugees to return to their homes and resume their vocations.

Eschen was the center of panics that followed Antwerp's fall. Antwerp's residents had been told repeatedly their city was the strongest fortress in Europe. They remained in their homes, an cheered the British naval brigades, believing their number was ten times what it was.

Personal inconveniences such as the absence of water for ten days, the city in darkness at night and the refusal of permission to Belgians outside the city to enter did not lessen the optimism of the people. Then the governor of Antwerp signed this proclamation:

"History teaches us how some times fortified cities have been subjected to bombardment. Therefore everybody is warned to leave, if possible before 2 o'clock in the afternoon."

The ceaseless flight toward Eschen began. Frenzied thousands packed their valuables in sheets, strapped children on their backs and hastened to the nearest station. The trains gathered in people like cattle without tickets.

Then cars of every description started northward. This movement lasted five days.

Usually the distance between Antwerp and Eschen is covered in twenty minutes. The refugee trains took six hours. Then followed another slow ride through to Roosendaal, where by a common impulse, the residents carried everything eatable towards the stations. The Dutch soldiers lined up in solid rows pushed the baskets of food in the car windows. The welcome was elementary but it was warm-hearted.

ROADS NOW PLEAD FOR RATE INCREASE

Willard, the Baltimore and Ohio is Heard.

IS CLOSELY EXAMINED

Business Depression and European War Given as Main Reasons for Renewal of Application for 5 Per Cent Increase.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Business depression and the European war today were assigned as reasons why Eastern railroads should have at least a 5 per cent increase in freight rates, by representatives of the systems appearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission. It was asserted that these two conditions had led to a shrinkage of more than $75,000,000 in the annual net revenues of 35 Eastern roads, operating more than 55,000 miles of railway.

Daniel E. Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, and head of the conference of presidents of the lines involved, was the principal witness. He was supported by a mass of statistics presented by Vice President Shriver of the same line. Further evidence will be submitted tomorrow.

In opposition to the plea of the carriers, Clifford Thorne appeared for public service corporations of several Middle Western and Inter-Mountain states and also for shippers' organizations in the region affected. Mr. Thorne declared his purpose and the desire of the shippers was that the public's side of the question should be fully brought out.

Severe Cross-Examination. Louis Brandeis, counsel for the commission, assailed Mr. Willard's position in cross examination, calling attention to the fact that the Baltimore & Ohio this year had declared its regular 6 per cent dividend despite an actual deficit of more than $3,000,000 in net revenues. Mr. Brandeis indicated the affairs of other lines would be similarly taken up later.

Mr. Willard said the dividend had been maintained at 6 per cent this year at his recommendation. He declared he believed it justified by the fact that the road had $12,000,000 in surplus and it was necessary to maintain the credit of the line.

Mr. Brandeis took exception to the statement of the Baltimore & Ohio surplus. He insisted that $22,000,000 of the line's investment in securities of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, now in the hands of a receiver. Mr. Willard admitted this but said the purchase of that road was not an issue in the present hearing.

Mr. Brandeis assailed the statement of the railroads had disclosed so far nothing originating since the commission's recent ruling rejecting the Eastern roads' application for a 5 per cent increase in rates. Mr. Brandeis said there had been a falling off in revenues of $75,000,000 for the period embraced and the companies' statement of $75,000,000 shrinkage in net revenues, which Mr. Willard said served to confirm that estimate.

"The commission also forecast improvement in business conditions," said Mr. Willard, "whereas, there actually has been retrogression."

Mr. Willard said the railroads had followed the suggestion of the commission in making some increases in passenger rates, both on mileage books and straight fares. To the Baltimore & Ohio he thought it likely the increases would aggregate in time $100,000 annually on the mileage books, but it was impossible to say how much might be realized from advances on other fares.

B. & O. in Good Shape.

"Do you know of any companies, railroad or other, that have not been able to market their securities at a better rate than the Baltimore & Ohio?" inquired Mr. Thorne. "Personally, I do not," replied Mr. Willard. "We sold our securities at a fairly reasonable rate."

"Can you mention any increase in labor cost since 1912?" pursued Mr. Thorne.

"Yes," said Mr. Willard, "we have advanced our laborers' engaged on maintenance work in the aggregate between $600,000 and $700,000 a year."

Mr. Willard said he did not share the commission's view that coal rates ought not to be increased. "We need additional revenue," said he, "and the best and fairest way would be to advance all rates, including those on coal."

"Are these increases asked for to establish credit or to obtain money to meet obligations?" asked Commissioner Clements.

"Both, in a measure," said Mr. Willard. "The Baltimore & Ohio is well worth its outstanding obligations and much more, but our returns have been small. We have put $80,000,000 into the property in the last two or three years—$45,000,000 in short term notes. Conservatively it will require $15,000,000 a year for many years."

Questioning Mr. Shriver Mr. Brandeis drew out a statement that the ratio of operating expense per mile had declined in 1914 from the 1913 figures. In the same connection Mr. Thorne began a cross examination, tending to show that the cost of railway supplies, with the exception of coal, was lower this year than in preceding years.

Willard on the Stand.

President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, chairman of the committee of railroad presidents made the opening statement before the commission for the Eastern roads in their application for increased rates.

"The needs of the carriers are pressing," he declared. "The actual situation has become critical."

Mr. Willard called attention to the decision of the commission in the former case, wherein it was stated that "the net operating income of the railroads in official classification territory is smaller than is demanded in the interest of both the general public and the railroads, and to the fact that the freedom has been restored."

DESCRIBES EFFECT OF POWERFUL GUNS

Associated Press Correspondent Visits Antwerp

CAPTURE OF CITY EASY

German Officers Say City Fell Eight Days Before Expected and That Resistance Was Nothing Like Looked For.

Antwerp, via London, Oct. 19.—On his arrival in Antwerp, the Associated Press correspondent found the city guarded by blue jackets and marine infantrymen from the German stations at Kiel, Kuxhaven and Wilhelmshaven.

Detachments of sailors among them, recruited from the German merchant marine, were armed only with cutlasses and revolvers. They lay several weeks behind the army, taking no part in the fighting and evidently are destined for sea duty after the capture of a port.

German staff officers assured the correspondent that the German command, General Von Beseler, had found easy victory in his campaign where hard fighting was expected and much trouble where little resistance was expected. Officers say Antwerp fell eight days earlier than expected, the Belgians evidently being disheartened by their nine weeks of defeat and also because of the easy manner in which the fortified position behind the river Nethe was carried October 6 and 7.

As the correspondent drove through miles of streets of Antwerp, the city seemed to have suffered less than had been believed. Indications of damage wrought by the German shells were observed in all quarters but the destruction usually was confined to individual houses at widely scattered points.

Damage Not General.

At German headquarters it was said this fact was due to the definite plan of the Germans to convince Antwerp with a minimum of damage that further resistance was useless. The heavy 12 and 16-inch guns, it was stated, were not used against the city proper, but shells from the smaller mortars were dropped throughout the place, a few in each section until every quarter had been systematically visited.

How accurately the public buildings were avoided, seemed to have been proven by a shell hole in the pavement at the side entrance to the city hall and in the destruction of a house across the street from that building. The church of Our Lady, the pride of Antwerp, has a hole 8 or 10 feet in diameter in one transient window, and in an (Continued on Page Two.)

War News at a Glance

That part of Belgium stretching from Ostend to the French border, from which the strongly fortified French sector of Dunkirk is distant only a few miles, is bearing the brunt of the heavy fighting between the allies and the Germans.

The invaders have been attempting to force their way along the coast between Nieuport and Dixmude. They are opposed by the Belgians, who, aided by British warships, according to the French official communications, have succeeded in repulsing their attacks.

The nature of the assistance afforded by the British navy is not divulged, but previous reports indicated that the naval arm of one country or the other was being utilized in connection with the land fighting.

In the district between Arras and Roye the allies have advanced at several points, reaching as far in some instances as the wire entanglements that constitute part of the German defensive works.

A Berlin official dispatch announces that German forces have reached the neighborhood of Dunkirk and that the inhabitants of the Belgian town have fled. It confirms the report of heavy fighting at Dixmude and Roulers.

The German embassy at Washington, basing the announcement on dispatches from the Far East by way of San Francisco, asserts the British battleship Triumph has suffered severely from shells fired from the German fortress of Tientsin and has been forced to withdraw from the British-Japanese bombardment fleet.

Turkey has refused to assent to Great Britain's request that German officers and crews on the former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau be discharged. The Ottoman government says the matter of the retention of the Germans is a domestic question.

While England and Holland are wrestling with the question of how to care for thousands of Belgian refugees, the American government is taking measures for the relief of those rendered destitute in Belgium. The German government has consented to the admission of food supplies to Belgium for a people of that country facing starvation.

Amsterdam reports that large numbers of refugees are returning to Antwerp and that the city is resuming its normal appearance.

Partial Russian successes in fierce fighting in the region of Warsaw and south of Przemyel are reported officially from Petrograd.

That the allies have re-captured Ostend is a report sent to the London Post by its correspondent in the north of France, who says he has excellent authority for the statement.

Irish nationalists in London at a meeting held to express confidence in the leadership of John Redmond and to endorse the action of the Irish party in supporting the allies in the present war, have adopted a pledge never to sheathe the sword until Belgium's freedom has been restored.

Gen. Antonio Villareal May Be Mexican President

This is General Villareal, who in all probability will be chosen president of Mexico, having been nominated by the military convention composed of Carranza and Villa sympathizers at Aguas Calientes. He has been one of the Constitutionalists in influence since the revolution against Huerta began. At this time he is governor of Nuevo Leon. By the choice of Villareal General Villa and General Carranza are both eliminated from the coming election. Villa has succeeded in doing what he has long aimed at—keeping Carranza out of the presidency.

GERMANY WILLING DANIELS TO URGE BELGIUM BE AIDED MORE SUBMARINES

Food Supplies for Destitute And Observations of European Naval Battles. Can be Sent There.

TO MINISTER WHITLOCK IN HIS ANNUAL REPORT

American Ambassador Appeals to His Home Government to Aid—Starvation Will Face People in Two Weeks More.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The German government announced today it has consented to the admission of food supplies for destitute Belgians. The British ambassador here and American Ambassador Page in London have been notified by the State Department.

The department has been trying for nearly a week to secure this action from the German government, and it had addressed two separate inquiries to the German foreign office through Ambassador Gerard at Berlin.

The question presented—that of bringing in supplies from a belligerent country for the relief committee has accumulated them in London. It thought to have been without any precedent and it is believed here that the German foreign office officials felt it incumbent upon them to consider the application very carefully because of the possibility of the far reaching effect of an affirmative decision.

As understood at the State Department the American relief committee, of which Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, is the head, has gathered about 1,500 tons of food supplies in London ready for shipment to Belgium. By the arrangement effected with the German foreign office, these supplies may enter Belgium provided they are consigned to "Minister Whitlock." The British government was insistent upon this point. It did not wish these supplies to reach the German army.

President Wilson today received a personal cablegram from Mr. Whitlock, stating that the condition of the civil population of Belgium was miserable and that within two weeks they would face starvation. He appealed to the American government for aid. The cablegram was dated Brussels last Friday and was referred to the State Department.

Secretary of Navy Thinks That United States Should Keep Up Stride Set by Other Nations in Building Submarines.

Good Defensive Weapon.

"While the submarine is a most effective defensive weapon and has great possibilities of marked development in the future as an offensive weapon, it is not believed that submarines in their present state of development will decide any naval war but that the paramount need of the present-day navy is for battleships by which the ultimate test of strength will be decided."

The Secretary defended the organization of the navy, and in particular the general board. "Much," he said, "constitutes in effect a general staff."

In general, the statement continued, "it may be said that our submarines themselves are the equal of any."

COTTON THE CRUX OF THE SITUATION

Representative of British Government in Washington.

CONFERS WITH M'ADOO

And the Federal Reserve Board Over Financial Conditions and the Re-establishment of Trade—Exchanges May Reopen.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Sir George Paish, special adviser to the English Chancellor of the Exchequer; Basil B. Blackett, of the English treasury; Secretary McAdoo and the Federal Reserve Board, today began a series of conferences here which are expected to have an important effect on financial conditions in Great Britain and the United States. Restoration of normal conditions in foreign exchange dealings between the two countries is the object of the meetings and they probably will have a direct influence on the disposition of the South's cotton crop.

It became known tonight that officials of the American government feel keenly that cotton is the crux of a situation which has many ramifications, and that on the success of plans to care for the surplus and on the willingness of manufacturers to buy cotton depends the value of Sir George's visit.

It is probable that before Sir George returns to England the question of reopening the London and New York stock exchanges will be considered. It was predicted here tonight that the London exchange would reopen shortly, with the British government urging that London brokers do not call loans immediately. If the London market is not greatly affected, its resumption of business may be followed by the reopening of the New York exchange.

Much Depends on Cotton.

So much depends on the cotton problem that there probably will be no further conferences until a committee of the board which is handling the proposed $150,000,000 cotton loan fund plan has found a satisfactory solution. The committee, Secretary McAdoo, Paul M. Warburg and W. P. G. Harding, returned today from New York, where it had been at work since Saturday in an effort to convince New York bankers of the feasibility and soundness of plans for the fund.

The New York bankers promised to put up one third of the loan fund but the sum prescribed, it was discovered, could not legally be met. The Reserve Board members proposed different conditions and as a further inducement offered to let the Northern section of the United States put up three dollars to every one put up by Southern bankers with the understanding that the Northern banks shall have a prior lien for their money.

Under this tentative plan, Southern banks would have actual management of the fund, the whole, however, to be supervised by the Federal Reserve Board. Other conditions as to interest rate and price of cotton were said to be left unchanged.

This counter plan has not been passed on finally, but every opportunity will be taken to expedite its consideration, so that the board may begin discussion George and Mr. Blackett.

Of First Importance. The cotton crop is of first importance in these conferences because it is the United States has relied in past years to cancel the larger part of its foreign indebtedness.

Sir George is known to hold that English manufacturers do not wish short reserves of the well-known cotton. With cotton moving again across the Atlantic, the indebtedness of the United States to England would be decreased rapidly and materially, and conditions here would improve, in consequence.

It was said tonight that cotton exchanges probably would open shortly if arguments made here availed. One difficulty is the fact that there are no quotations on which the factor or the manufacturer can base offers.

The question of opening London and New York Stock Exchanges probably will be taken up later at conferences with New York bankers. Secretary McAdoo tonight said that representatives of leading banking houses in New York will be invited to these conferences.

London, Oct. 19.—German forces have reached the neighborhood of Dunkirk according to a Berlin official dispatch to the Marconi Wireless Company. Heavy fighting is taking place in Dixmude and Roulers. The inhabitants of Dunkirk and Boulogne are in flight.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Nearly 100 representatives of the well-known Federal Reserve banks are expected in Washington tomorrow for a two day conference with the Federal Reserve board to determine when to open the reserve banks. It was said tonight that the banks will be opened within thirty days if possible.

and in point of numbers we compare most favorably with foreign navies. However, the importance of submarines is undoubtedly being shown at the present time and rapid as are the submarine flotillas of some countries, this pace will be increased. For many reasons, we should undoubtedly, then keep up and increase our submarine strength, building submarines not only to defend our long coasts but to accompany the fleet.

GERMAN ADVANCE BECOMES CRITICAL

Belgians fleeing from their country never will return if it remains under German rule. Many exiles expect to make their homes in the United States when they can obtain funds to go there.

Between 300,000 and 400,000 Belgians have crossed into Holland and equal numbers have fled southward into France while more than 100,000 have arrived on English shores. Thousands continue to pour across the British Channel daily.

SAW NAVAL BATTLE.

American Schooner Saw Fight Between German and British Vessels.
Havana, Oct. 19.—The American schooner Fannie Prescott, which arrived here today from Gulfport, Miss., reported that on October 17th, while in latitude 24.40 north and longitude 84.30 west she saw a German four funneled cruiser, apparently the Karlsruhe, fighting with a British cruiser, smaller in size. About a half hour of firing the cruisers separated, the British vessel going west and the German north. The German vessel, it is said, listed to port and apparently had been damaged seriously.

TO PROTECT AMERICANS.

Boat Sent to Mexican Port to See That Citizens Are Respected.
San Diego, Cal., Oct. 19.—With orders to protect eight Americans supposed to be on board the Mexican steamer Mazatlan, the United States ship Raleigh today left here for Ensenada, Mex. The Mazatlan was commandeered yesterday by Mexican military authorities to transport artillery from Ensenada to Guaymas. Two Americans supposed to be on board are passengers. Others are members of the crew.

The authorities have no information that these Americans need aid, but it was decided to send the Raleigh to investigate.

VOGEL DIES SUDDENLY.

Vice President of Bank of Henry Siegel Company and Under Indictment.
New York, Oct. 19.—Frank E. Vogel, who was vice president of the Bank of Henry Siegel & Company, which failed and who, with Siegel, was indicted on a charge of grand larceny for making alleged false statements regarding their financial condition, thereby obtaining large loans from many banks, died suddenly here tonight.

Vogel with Siegel was awaiting trial on a grand larceny charge following the finding of 14 indictments against both for alleged mismanagement of the affairs of the 14th street Siegel store and the Siegel bank.

The Vogel family physician said death was due to heart failure. Coroner Hellenstein, after viewing the body, ordered that an autopsy be performed tomorrow. He said that in view of the interest here today before the Medicine Law Association of the United States, an autopsy to ward off any suspicion that the death was anything but natural. He laid stress on the fact that the family acquiesced. Vogel was 54 years of age.

PREDICTS MANY REFORMS.

International Law Will Be Radically Changed as Result of War.
Washington, Oct. 19.—Reforms in international law, resulting from the European war, were predicted by Judge George C. Holt, of New York, in an address here today before the Medicine Law Association of the United States, of which he is president.

Judge Holt said a determined effort should be made after the war to put a stop forever to the capture and destruction of merchant vessels. In the Crimean war, he said, France and England allowed Russian ships six weeks to depart from ports unmolested after a declaration of war; Japan was allowed seven days, and Russia two, in the Russo-Japanese war, and Spain thirty days and the United States five, during the Spanish-American war.

"But no sooner was this war declared," he said, "than the universal rapine began. It is reported that Great Britain detained 95 German vessels in British ports and Germany 70 British vessels in German ports. All neutral ports in all parts of the world are crowded with idle ships. The commerce of the world is stopped in obedience to that relic of barbarism, the rule of international law that capture and destruction of an enemy's merchant vessels is legitimate in war."

The entire question of the use of the mines, the speaker suggested, probably would be considered anew after the war. Floating mines, he said had done much more damage in this war to merchant vessels than to warships, and he pointed out that for two years after the Japanese-Russian war Chinese junks were blown up by contact mines. The association today elected William Marconi an honorary member.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION IS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Branch Associations Meet in Advance of Parent Body—Sessions Open Today.
Washington, Oct. 19.—The annual meeting of the American Bar Association, which opens here tomorrow, was preceded today by sessions of subsidiary organizations attracted to Washington by the convening of the parent body.

Robert M. Hughes, of Virginia, addressed the section of legal education on "The Historical Evolution of the Board of Law Examiners." I. Maurice O'Winnser, of New York, read a paper on bar examinations. President Charles A. Boston, of New York, commenting on the paper, told of a test of the value of informational questions applied to a gathering of the most successful members of the association. Only one or two were certain how Lowell spelled "Bigelow" in writing the "Bigelow Papers," he said, and not one could tell the name of the Republican candidate for vice-president in 1912.

Solicitor Joseph W. Folk, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, addressed the association of attorneys general. He emphasized the weakness of the States in enforcing laws and their turning to the Federal government for relief, as shown in the white slave and in the pure food law.

The program of the association on military law was cut short by the decision of several army officers not to read papers in view of President Wilson's recent orders against comment on the European war.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH.

Judge Urges Grand Jury to Look Into Deaths of Cadet—Missing.
Annapolis, Md., Oct. 19.—Asserting that the death of Cadet William R. Bowlin, of Middletown, Md., as a result of a falling escapee at St. John's College here May 24 was an act of murder, Judge Brashears, charging the Ann Arundel county grand jury today urged that the tragedy be probed.

The five freshmen held responsible for Bowlin's death are George H. Weaver, New York; Henry L. Valdes, Havana, Cuba; Fendall Marbury, Baltimore; R. A. Jones, Cambridge, Md.; and John M. Noble, Preston, Md.

JOHNSON IS EXONERATED.

Master of Ill-Fated Monroe Not to Blame for Accident.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 19.—Capt. E. E. Johnson, who commanded the Old Dominion steamer Monroe when she was rammed by the Merchant & Miners' steamer Nantuxet January 30, and sunk with 40 lives on board, was today exonerated of all blame for the collision by Col. John W. East, supervising inspector of steam vessels for the fifth district.

Inspectors Charles W. Wright and E. F. White, of Baltimore, at a hearing held shortly after the collision, found Captain Johnson guilty of negligence and recommended that his license be taken from him. Captain Johnson appealed and Colonel East today, after reviewing the evidence, reversed the verdict of the two inspectors. He sent his decision to General Ehler, supervising inspector general of steam vessels at Washington.

DESCRIBES EFFECT OF OF POWERFUL GUNS

adjoining wall 30 feet above the floor. Otherwise the edifice was not damaged. The artillery used by the Germans before Antwerp was stronger than was generally known. In addition to their widely heralded 16-inch mortars and a large number of 12-inch siege guns, they had two Austrian automobile batteries of 13 guns. The effect of the big guns in Antwerp's outer fortifications was more striking than at Liege. Two armored turrets at Fort De Wavre-St. Catherine were put out of action with a single shot, their steel beds being broken in two by the heavy masses of metal hurled five or six yards away. In another place the concrete embankment was pierced and the steel turret uprooted.

The officers declared that after 80 German shells had been dropped in various quarters of Antwerp the white flag appeared on forts outside and seven on the inner girdle of fortifications. The burgomaster of the city then came out and offered to surrender Antwerp but has told that the terms of capitulation could be arranged only with the Belgian military authorities. The burgomaster's plea that these officers could not be found led to an order for a suspension of the attack.

The German troops then pushed in through the girdle of inner forts and past the undamaged city walls, finding that the retiring garrison had blown up the bridge across the river Scheldt and also had interposed a belt of flame against the invaders by firing the oil tanks and covering the surface of the river with burning oil.

Antwerp is a dead city. The populace has fled and the streets are deserted.

STATE FAIR OPENS AT RALEIGH THIS MORNING

With Great Promise of Gratifying Success

National Guard Made Fine Showing in Inspections—Robeson Farmers Reported in Good Spirits.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 19.—Preparations are rapidly going forward for the opening of the State Fair Tuesday morning when Governor Craig will deliver the address and the Raleigh Rotary Club will have charge of the big opening parade from the city out to the fair grounds. The business section of the city was never more profusely decorated for a State Fair and the outlook is most auspicious.

It is conceded by those in touch with the installation of the exhibits that no fair has had exhibits more abounding in object lessons tending to the upbuilding of the State, especially in agriculture, health, education and other lines of human development. Indeed, it is asserted that many real revelations of progress and possibilities in these matters await the many thousands of people who always flock to the State Fair.

In addition to the exhibits, races and other features, there are daily programmes of special exhibitions by famous performers who will entertain the fair throngs at different hours of the day. There is great promise of a most successful fair and preparations are perfected here for handling and entertaining the crowds in the best possible manner.

Guard Made Fine Showing.

Adjutant General Lawrence W. Young received today the report from the War Department of the official inspections made of the regiments of the North Carolina National Guard in the annual encampments. The report made being decidedly the best in the history of the Guard. The report shows that the field service showing made by the First Infantry was fair and that the companies making the best showing in this regiment were Company B, Gastonia, and Company H, Waynesville. In this regiment the officers showing the best were: Capt. W. R. Roberson, Charlotte; Col. J. T. Gardner, Shelby; Capt. A. L. Bullwinkle, Company B, Gastonia; Capt. J. H. Howell, Waynesville, and First Lieut. A. W. Edwards, battalion adjutant, Canton. Staff efficiency of this regiment was especially fine.

As to the Second Regiment, efficiency in field service was reported good. Officers showing special efficiency: Col. W. C. Rodman, Washington; Major C. M. Faircloth, Clinton.

The showing for the Third Regiment is fair in field service efficiency, with Capt. S. C. Chambers, of Durham, and Capt. W. B. Miller, Reidsville, showing special efficiency among the officers of the regiment.

The inspections and reports were made by Capt. Russell C. Langdon and Captain Bernard Sharp, United States Army, Adjutant General, Young is much gratified at the reports as showing steady improvement.

Charters Issued.

The Secretary of State issued the following charters today for new corporations:

The Overby Cotton Storage Co., of Angier, Harrell county, capital $5,000, by R. D. Overby, J. K. Adams and others for cotton storage, advancing money on cotton stored and issuing negotiable certificates.

The Franklin Land Co., of Louisa, capital $10,000 authorized and $6,000 subscribed by D. F. McKinzie and others.

The Markham Garage Co., of Greensboro, capital $25,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by R. L. Markham and others.

The Hanes Chair & Table Co., of Mocksville, capital $25,000 authorized and $1,500 subscribed by J. F. Hanes, J. B. Johnston and J. W. Carter for general timber development and wood working plants.

Robeson Farmers in Good Spirits.

Commissioners of Agriculture W. A. Graham, just back from Robeson county, says he found the farmers in that section in remarkably good spirits and holding on to their cotton through systems of warehouse storage that are rapidly developing through which there are storage facilities and advances being made on the cotton to the value of six cents per pound. He believes this is one of the surest solutions of the present difficulties. He tells the farmers he has in the past sold cotton at 4-5 cents per pound and still lives and he is sure all will get through the present difficulties, every passing day bringing the farmers that much nearer the end of the crisis through which they are passing.

DR. HENRY LEWIS SMITH SPEAKS AT WAKE FOREST

Former President of Davidson Heard in Several Addresses

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 19.—Dr. Henry Lewis Smith, formerly president of Davidson college, now president of Washington and Lee University, spoke at Sunday School and at both morning and evening services Sunday. He also addressed the student body twice today. Dr. Smith is a forceful speaker and those who came out thoroughly enjoyed hearing him.

At Sunday school he spoke on the building of manhood, and suggested four pillars, which, he said, he thought were essential: (1) Courage, the backbone of manhood; (2) Energy, the muscle of manhood; (3) Love, the heart of manhood; (4) Spirituality, the culmination of manhood.

At the morning service he selected, he said, one of the most beautiful metaphors found in the Bible; Psalms 84-11, "The Lord God is a Sun." His entire sermon was one of metaphors. He compared the sun, the source of light, with Christ, the light of moral sun.

SUICIDE AT CHOCOWINITY.

Section Master Believed to Have Jumped Into Bay.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Washington, N. C., Oct. 19.—William Lassiter, who has been missing from home since Friday morning, and who was last seen he was walking in that direction. That led to investigation, and his glasses, walking cane, hat, and pocket knife were found at one of the landings on the bay.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE IN WAYNE

Henry Mooring Knocked in Head With Bottle, Dies—Two Young Men Arrested.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldboro, N. C., Oct. 19.—Saulston township was the scene of another shocking homicide last night about 9 o'clock when Henry Mooring was knocked in the head with a bottle, death resulting in a few minutes.

Leonard and Emmett Howell, two young men, brothers, of that section, were brought to this city today and lodged in jail charged with the crime. Mooring is a brother of the Mooring who some years ago shot and killed his step-mother, while in a drunken stupor.

Last night's homicide, it is alleged, was due to Mooring's interfering with the Howell brothers who had gone to a negro man's house for the purpose of whipping, and upon Mooring demanding they leave the negro alone, he was struck over the head with a bottle, it is alleged.

The Howell brothers neither claim nor deny the crime.

WAREHOUSE DOING BUSINESS

Pender Farmers Storing Their Cotton

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Oct. 19.—The Burgaw warehouse is now open for and is already receiving cotton. The charge for storage is 25 cents per bale per month. It is likely that most of the cotton ginned here will be stored in this warehouse.

The hens in this part of the country seem to have struck, as eggs are extremely scarce and very high. The rains of the past week have put the roads in pretty bad shape for autos and they are getting stuck in the mud rather often.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FARRIOR

Whiteville, Woman Died in Raleigh—

Burial at Home

(Special Star Telegram.)

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Kittie McKinnon Farrior, who formerly lived in Whiteville, died in the Rex Hospital in Raleigh yesterday morning, death resulting from complications that followed an operation there two weeks ago. Up until Saturday members of the family had been receiving encouraging reports of Mrs. Farrior's condition and her death Sunday morning was a severe shock to the family.

Before her marriage Mrs. Farrior was Miss Kittie McKinnon, sister of her husband, Mr. Edwin A. Farrior, of Kenansville, and two sons, Kenneth and Bernice Farrior.

The remains were brought to Whiteville on the early train this morning and, following the funeral at the home of her sister, interment was in the cemetery here.

ENTERTAIN 100 PLANTERS

Kinston Chamber of Commerce Host to Farmers of Nine Counties at Annual Banquet

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 19.—The chamber of commerce is preparing to entertain 100 planters from Lenoir, Greene, Pitt, Craven, Wayne, Onslow, Duplin, Pender and Jones counties at its annual meeting Wednesday night. A hundred and fifty or two hundred Kinston business men will fraternize with the guests from the country on a subject of interest to both classes—agriculture. President Young, of the Norfolk Southern, and President C. I. Millard, of the Carolina Railroad, have promised to use every effort to come here from Norfolk for the occasion.

A sumptuous banquet will be served the visitors, probably in the spacious social rooms of the Gordon Street Christian church. At noon on Wednesday a hooster party will traverse Duplin and a portion of Pender county in automobiles. The annual meeting is expected to be made the biggest feature in the extension of closer commercial intercourse between Kinston and the surrounding country of which it is the commercial capital. The merchants of a number of towns in the nine counties have been invited to attend it.

Rev. R. L. Davis, Superintendent of the State Anti-Saloon League, addressed a gathering of Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians, Disciples of Christ and other denominations which filled Queen Street Methodist church, Sunday night. All of the principal churches of the city united in the service. Rev. Mr. Davis spoke of the progress of the League's work, the contemplated legislation which would prohibit the delivery of liquor for personal use and other phases of the campaign for the eradication of the evil. Mr. Davis was an important figure in the recent Virginia campaign, and has since spent some time in Massachusetts.

"NOT TRUE" BILL IN CASE OF J. H. FOY OF JONES

Released From Jail, Exonerated of Charge of Manslaughter

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, Oct. 19.—J. H. Foy, a well known and reputable citizen of Jones county who was charged with the killing of Charles Collins, a convict on the Craven county chain gang, has been released from the county jail, the grand jury having made a full investigation of the case and returned bills of "not true," both as to manslaughter and as to an assault with a deadly weapon. It was found that the negro's death was caused by an old injury.

Mr. Foy has many friends in Craven and surrounding counties and they have manifested a great interest in this case and are glad to see him freed of the charge. His father from Trenton and brother from Pollocksville have been in the city all of the week with Mr. Foy and had employed Attorney D. E. Henderson to look out for his interests and to defend him if he was placed on trial.

W. W. W. W. N. C., Oct. 19.—Hon. George E. Hood of Goldsboro, the Democratic nominee for Congress from this, the Third, Congressional District, delivered an interesting address before a large number at the Court house in this city Friday night.

ANNUAL DECLAMATION CONTEST IS PLANNED

High Schools in Five States to Participate.

To Be Held at Thanksgiving Under Auspices of 9019 Club of Trinity College-Relay Race-Notes From the Campus

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, Oct. 19.—The 9019, a local scholarship and patriotic organization, is planning to hold the fourth annual declamation contest under the auspices of the organization during the Thanksgiving recess. Invitations to send representatives to this contest have been sent to high schools in this state, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, and South Carolina. The preliminary contest will be held Friday morning, November 27, and the final contest will take place that evening in Craven Memorial Hall, when the winner among the contestants will receive a prize of a $20 gold medal. This contest in former years proved helpful in a number of ways, and from interest in the approaching contest and the number of favorable replies already received by the local committee, the plan this year shows promise of even larger success.

The organization in recent years has also given ten prizes of sets of books to as many high schools in the State whose representatives in Trinity College made the highest scholarship records during the preceding year. This year these prizes are not given, but in their place the society has ordered the Trinity Chronicle, the college weekly, sent to the reading rooms of 33 of the leading high schools of the State.

The fifth annual inter-class relay race was run last Monday by the Juniors in 54:25; by the Freshmen in 56:50, and by the Seniors in 57:28. When the race was ended President Few awarded the Snider-Wilcox-Fletcher loving cup to Captain Osborne, of the Junior team.

The first meeting of the Rutherford College Club for the year was held last Tuesday evening. New members added to the roll of the club are W. F. Henley, L. H. McNeely, H. B. Teeter, L. Frazier, H. G. Love, R. W. Giles, John Cline, R. E. Jordan, G. N. Barnhart and D. E. Garrison. Mr. D. C. Lewis, of Bessemer, Ala., a member of the senior class and president of the local Y. M. C. A., has resumed his work at the college. He has been delayed in returning to college on account of sickness.

The prospects for another interesting season in basketball are splendid. Training of the team has already begun. Before the variety season opens a series of inter-class games will be played.

Interest in many forms of athletic endeavor is unusually lively this year. The numerous tennis courts are filled with players every afternoon, the gymnasium is busy, class baseball is just now attracting attention, and every form of athletic interest here is being encouraged. The first game of the inter-class series of baseball was played last Tuesday, between the Juniors and the Seniors, being won by the latter class by the close score of 2 to 0.

The officers of the Chanticleer, the college annual, have outlined their work for the publication of 1915, and at a recent meeting of these officers began the work of the year. Contracts for the mechanical side of the work will be given soon. The staff of the publication this year are: Editor, E. S. Savage; associate editors, G. W. H. Britt and B. F. Few; business manager, W. W. Hutton; assistant business manager, R. M. Johnston; humor department, W. M. Sutton, J. W. Wallace and G. S. Sexton, Jr.; athletic department, J. W. Lambeth, Jr. and Raymond Smith; department of organizations, E. R. Sikes and R. A. Staton; literary department, G. W. H. Britt and Banks Arendell; co-ed department, Catherine Thomas and Fannie Vann; art department, J. H. Burrus.

The first regular literary meeting of the Fortnightly Club, a literary organization of the upper classes and certain members of the faculty, was held last Friday evening, and Dr. S. Graves of the department of English was the principal speaker.

TWO NERVOUS WOMEN

Made Well By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headaches, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness. 'I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicines the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited.'—Mrs. MARY JOHNSTON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case. Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysterical spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my dishes. 'Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now.'—Mrs. J. W. HORNBERGER, R. No. 3, Ephrata, Pa.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TUESDAY OCTOBER 20, 1914.

Over production and war together are worse than what war is.

What became of the movement to boycott steak? Hasn't steak boycotted us?

Intervention with the news is one of the strategical and provoking features of the war in Europe.

Nobody seems to be getting cleaned up by those "sweeping movements" in the war zones of Europe.

What the South needs now is a campaign of education so it may know better than to put its foot in it.

Delimit, eliminate, or else limit cotton production in order not to lose money trying to make money on cotton.

When we get ourselves into trouble we ought to be able to get out of it without yelling for help from those who have trouble of their own.

It is announced that "General Carranza" wants to make a tour of the United States." If we were Carranza we would want to make a tour out of Mexico.

Many a politician will try to make capital out of the present situation, but a politician who can do it ought to get a job for making moonshine out of the rays of hope.

Among other grim humors of the European war are the maps published in the papers with a view to conveying a correct idea of the fighting line from day to day.

A poet sings: "Some day when I'm tired of dreaming." The dratted thing that makes us more weary than dreaming is meeting up with the realities that seem to be coming our way.

Those who have joined the "wear cotton" movement should also wear cotton themselves. Don't depend on the other individuals to wear cotton. Well, cotton does look good to us. We are one of cotton's affiliates.

The Republicans in the Fourth Congressional district of South Carolina have nominated a negro for Congress. In other words, the Republicans of the Fourth district have nominated one of their own color. That's natural.

Nothing is so frightful as it seems to be a run-away horse. It is not near so bad as it seems to a lot of people now. Many men who have rushed to the front in this emergency wouldn't take a thousand dollars for their opportunity to burn punk, made while you wait.

We are calling on the government for help, and the government is calling on us for help. The government needs $100,000,000 to keep it from being in as bad a fix as the balance of us. The government war tax indicates that it is in need of being financed by the people.

We can blame ourselves for our present
"cotton crisis" in the South. We brought it all on by neglecting our opportunities and advantages for producing plenty to eat. Since we now know that bread and meat make people independent, we can mend our ways and take a new start. We have been "jerked up" good and hard.

One thing which has made us lose our nerve, is that this war situation put a brake on our gut in the South.
We hated to slow down, and little did we think that it was possible for any occurrence in Europe to make us whine out loud. We are terribly resistive at the idea of being flagged down on a fast gait. It came too suddenly for us to view the situation with equanimity. We have been going ahead in the South at such a pace that we have run out of patience and fortitude. Nevertheless, we have to grin and endure what is coming to us.

THEY WERE NONE OF OUR FATHERS.

The reason why The Star favors ratification of the ten amendments is because they are in the interest of the people of the State. Most of them alter constitutional clauses that we should have amended at least forty years ago. We ought to be ashamed that we didn't. We ought to be ashamed not to ratify two or three of the amendments that 1914 enlightenment suggests are clearly to the advantage of the progressive (?) State of North Carolina. We queried progressive because in some particulars we seem to have forgotten to be progressive. We owe it to ourselves to adopt all those amendments because we ought to cut ourselves loose from a dead past with which we have been floating along as a mere matter of course. Is looking backward we have found something that has interfered with our going forward. We make such discoveries as fast as we wake up, and when we adopt the amendments it will be one more sign that North Carolina proposes to be less of a Rip Van Winkle than it ever was before.

A few who think they are opposed to the amendments are rather disposed to make a fetish of what they call the "constitution adopted by the fathers." Tut! Tut! None of those Reconstructionists, scalawags and carpetbaggers among those who fathered that instrument away back yonder in 1868 were fathers of ours, so's you'd notice it, and even if they were distant relatives of ours, we have outdistanced them during the lapse of 46 years intervening between Reconstruction days in North Carolina and the Pan-European war, not to mention the cotton crisis.

We dearly love the sacred traditions of North Carolina's past, but we don't propose to be a votary at the junk heap on which nestles the constitution of 1868. When anything is dead the people of North Carolina ought to take it out to the boneyard.

Let us hold fast to that which is good, but don't let us keep any hooks on anything which has seen its day and is no more to be revered than the Reconstruction era itself. We ought to cut all the Reconstruction out of North Carolina's Constitution and re-construct an instrument of 1868 into a 1914 institution adaptable to the present times and to the actual needs of living North Carolinians—those living for the future and not living in the past.

We glory in North Carolina's grand "fathers," but so far as the alleged fathers are concerned we are glad we are not even one of their orphans. Suppose, however, our real "fathers" had adopted a constitution to meet their needs nearly fifty years ago, it would not justify us to cling to it if it did not meet the needs of 1914 North Carolinians. A constitution for the times and for the needs of North Carolina is what we need, and every time we need one better our intelligence ought to dictate that we should make it conform to modern ideals and present day necessities.

The North Carolina of today needs those constitutional amendments in her business and that is the reason that men of all parties should vote them. Don't let us vote as far back as 1868.

MR. D. A. TOMPKINS.

The death of such a masterful constructionist as Mr. D. A. Tompkins is not only a loss to his adopted city of Charlotte, but to North Carolina in a very large sense and to the South in general. Such a builder and achiever as Mr. Tompkins has furnished a force which it is difficult to estimate in the development of the entire South. It is difficult to think of him as merely a power in the industrial up-building of Charlotte, for to our own knowledge several States owe much to him for their progress and inspiration in developing their industrial resources. By his intelligence, his genius, his initiative and his capital, he made himself a powerful factor in developing the cotton milling industry in the South. That is not all, however, for he was one of the pioneers in developing the cotton oil industry as a collateral proposition in giving cotton its greatest asset value.

Mr. Tompkins was born in Edgefield, S. C., in 1852, and for many years he wielded a powerful influence in the industrial development of that State. Later he saw his greatest opportunity at Charlotte and made that North Carolina city his base because its conspicuous eligibility appealed strongly to him. In fact, it was his discriminating intelligence that led him to discover in Charlotte the natural center for his large operations. It speaks well for Charlotte that he picked it out as the one Southern point which dominated the growing cotton manufacturing interests of the South Atlantic.

Mr. Tompkins was an industrial leader in a general way, and in every phase of Southern industry he was a notable factor. Even in the newspaper field he saw a broad opportunity and his recognition of that need for Charlotte resulted in his joining the late Joseph P. Caldwell in laying a new and strong foundation for the Charlotte Observer. Thus, Mr. Tompkins became a benefactor in another large sense, and yet in many particulars not necessary to mention here, his life, short as it was, proved to be a blessing to his city and to thousands of people who in some way became beneficiaries of his great constructive genius.

A man like Mr. Tompkins is invaluable to a community, and his inspiring example in enterprise and industry will go on having its effect through the efforts of those who are his apprentices and followers of his example.

FINANCING RUIN IS A PROBLEM TO BE MET.

The United States might not make much commercial progress while the war is on in Europe but when it is all over we will be in a better position to do so than the balance of the world with its impaired resources. Yet we are more than apt to be drained of huge amounts of capital to replace the waste resulting from war in Europe. If we husband our own resources we will be able to dominate the financial and commercial revival.

At the same time we must remember that the enormous waste in Europe will tax our own resources, which otherwise could be better employed in making a Greater America. The one need in the South is capital, yet the American policy rather seems to be to look for investments everywhere rather than at home.

Loans of enormous amounts of capital abroad at a low rate of interest are often made in preference to better investments that can be made right here in the South.

One of the eventualities to be guarded against by this country is to retard its own development for many years by financing the rehabilitation of the war-stricken nations of Europe. Of course, we have to do all we can to help the humanity of the world to get on its feet, but all things being equal, we should not forget where we will come in when it is all over but the ruin and sorrow.

CURRENT COMMENT.

If those Congressmen who are yelling for a reduction in salaries for government officials would do as did President Harrison and cut his own salary 20 percent, at the same time ordering a reduction of the same amount on all salaries of officials receiving more than $2,500 a year. Members of Congress should set an example by reducing their incomes. So far they mount about cutting the other fellow down, but have said nothing about taking the same kind of medicine—Greensboro Record.

The Southwest is going at the manufacture of cotton goods. Muskogee, Okla., recently started the movement and has received a loan from Massachusetts, set it up and is making cotton cloth. That is the first manufacturing of fibres ever attempted in Oklahoma. It has been figured out that it costs six to ship a bale of cotton from Oklahoma to Massachusetts and bring the cotton goods back, without reference to the expense of manufacture. That can be saved by making up the cotton in the South. There is plenty of power and labor there, and the European war has not struck the people dumb—Wootter (Mass) Express.

The sarcastic and highly Protectionist Sun of New York wants to know why the people have not discovered that the Democratic tariff has reduced the cost of living. Every housekeeper in the country knew how much cheaper sugar was until the war sealed up or destroyed the sugar beet fields of Europe. Thousands of housekeepers have found that they could get the Argentine meats for a little less than the domestic. All the drygoods trade organs have shown that woolen and worsted clothes are cheaper under the present than under the former tariff. The manufacturers, however, found that the Democratic tariff was not so radical as they had feared, and they have been pushing their prices back to the level of the Payne-Aldrich tariff, and of course the war has helped them. To the Protectionist war is the greatest blessing imaginable; even a war in which we are a belligerent; and in the absence of a war a protective tariff is the best substitute they can get—Philadelphia Record.

Volume A, Number 1, of The Protectionist is at hand. Along with it comes a circular letter which tells us what The Protectionist is, what it printed and what it proposes to do. Telling this in our own way, however, we might say that The Protectionist is a bellows designed for raising the wind for the sails of the Republican State Executive Committee. It will be operated "every three months," or as often as there may be wind to fill the sails. The price is only 25 cents for the privilege of a year's supply of wind, though in the circular soliciting funds the subscription price is left blank with a dollar mark before it for the convenience of the more liberally inclined of the patriots. The Protectionist starts out by dividing its time between knocking the State Democracy and in advocating the amendment. It makes the boast that the Republicans have the better of the two State platforms, and that is one thing we are not minded to get into an argument with it about—Charlotte Observer.

The buy-a-bale cotton movement transfers cotton from the hands of one man to another, and by itself does not at all affect the price. If it transfers cotton from the hands of men who cannot hold it to men who can and will, it increases the price of cotton now, but does so at the expense of the price next year. What the country gains now by this movement will be lost next year. True, the price can be held up somewhat in this way this year, and the farmers can prevent the surplus held over from demoralizing the market by cutting their cotton acreage in half next year. They can, if they will, but we do not know whether they will or not. So the buy-a-bale movement will help if the men who buy a bale will hold it, and then if the farmers will greatly reduce their acreage. The buy-a-bale movement and all other movements for the increased use of cotton goods will have a permanent effect on the price of cotton after the year if it is persisted in—its will not be. If our women will hereafter wear no fabrics not made of cotton, they will ultimately secure a higher level for cotton, but they will not do the growers a particle of good this year; for the manufacturers will pay what they must, and the supply of raw cotton so far exceeds the domestic demand for it that they will continue to buy at present prices. There is no restriction in the market for cotton goods this year. The American manufacturers can sell all the goods they make. They could sell at a big profit if they sold ten cents per pound for cotton. They don't pay ten cents, not because they can't, but because they can get it for six. Movements that would tend to increase the use of cotton goods would thus benefit nobody but the manufacturers—Jacksonville Times-Union.

You'll never catch us condemning a fort because siege guns can batter it down. So long as siege guns are going to be used, forts can stand it better than a wall of humanity. Forts may last only a short time under monster guns whose projectile blow equals thousands of tons, but they are better for defenders than their being out in the open. Forts will be good for a while, even if they should only delay an invader a few days at most.

A South Carolina legislator has introduced a bill to compulsorily limit the planting of cotton to one third the present acreage and the bill has passed the lower house, in that State. If such a law were to be plastered on the statute books, its provisions would merely inhibit. If it is expected to prohibit the average South Carolinian from planting just as much cotton as he takes it into his head to plant, South Carolina would bankrupt herself in trying to enforce it. Besides needing a new court for every township, and about "seven thousand sheriffs to arrest offensive and defensive South Carolinians, it would open the way for an army of field surveyors whose principal duty would be to get knocked in the head with a hoe handle. Of all the cotton crisis punk-oh, well, you finish this yourself.

Blood Sufferers Want to Know

The Light is Turned on to a Subject of Darkness.

The mere fact that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, drives out disease is a world's story, a topic of conversation wherever men get together. They wonder why, simply because most remedies are mystified and put before them as "discoveries." The facts are that we pay too much attention to possibilities and not enough to real, homely accomplishment. S. S. S. is a remedy of our fathers. It has a history that is written deeply in men's minds because it has done the work driven out deep seated disease, revived hope, put the O. K. on appearance and clamped down tight any effort of germs to get the upper hand. Any sore spot on the skin is an immediate demand for S. S. S. since the first principle of this famous remedy is to strike out for places of trouble. This is a physiological fact and S. S. S. is true to the workings of our body. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any drugist and begin blood health. It will master any blood disease and do it in a way to emphasize its influence. And if you would like definite advice write The Swift Specific Co., 56 Swift Bldg., Athens, Ga. Their medical department is where most people first seek advice that puts them on the straight road.

Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co.

To Shippers and Receivers of Freight in North Carolina:

On October 13th, 1914, the provisions of the New North Carolina Freight Rate Law (Chapter 20, Public Laws, Extra Session of 1913), familiarly known as the "Justice Act," became effective under the Proclamation of the Governor of North Carolina. New tariffs of rates for the transportation of freight between points in the State of North Carolina have been filed with the North Carolina Corporation Commission, and with all the agents of the undersigned Railroad Company.

The provisions of the new law make some radical changes in the transportation of freight within this State, and in order to prevent confusion on the part of the shippers and receivers of freight, it is deemed proper to call these changes to their attention. In addition to the changes made in the rates heretofore existing, the new Law prohibits one railroad from meeting specific competitive rates of another rail or water line, unless intermediate rates are reduced to the same level, and to this extent competition between different routes will hereafter be prevented by the Law of North Carolina.

Special attention is called to the new form of these tariffs. They require that when freight is to be transported over a joint haul by more than one carrier, the shortest route must be used in order to secure the lowest rate. If the shipper does not desire his freight forwarded by the shortest route indicated in the tariff, but desires it forwarded by another route, it will be so forwarded, but the rate charged must be for the actual distance by the route directed by the shipper, even though it be the longer route.

Freight transported between points on this line will, under the terms of the law, be forwarded by the route over which this line's lowest rate is obtained, and the said lowest rate will be applied; provided, that if the shipper instructs that the freight be forwarded by another route, it will be so forwarded, and the rate applicable by said other route will be applied.

The rates from junction points reached by two or more lines are no longer the same via all lines. Freight delivered to this line for transportation from such junction points will be forwarded via the route via which this line's lowest rate is obtained, whether entirely over this line or over a joint-haul route; provided, that if the shipper designates another route, the freight will be routed accordingly, and the rate via such route will be applied.

WO SUITS STARTED BY CITY ANNUAL DRAINAGE MEETING PUPILS HEAR DR. STILES RECORDER HAD LONG DOCKET

Actions in Superior Court Against Tidewater Power Company and Bellwill Cotton Mills

Two suits were started by the City of Wilmington in Superior Court yesterday, one against the Tidewater Power Company and the other against the Bellwill Cotton Mills, the first looking toward the recovery of something over $2,500 claimed by the city as balance due from the Tidewater for its proportionate part of the cost of improving streets whereon it has tracks, and the latter to clear up the title to the foot of Wooster street, claimed by the Bellwill Cotton Mills.

Complaints in both actions were filed by City Attorney E. K. Bryan. The suit against the Tidewater is for $2,522.15 with interest from Sept. 1st, 1913, the city claiming that this amount is due as a balance of the Tidewater's proportionate part of the cost of paying streets on which it had tracks three years ago. The litigation centers around the question of whether the Tidewater is liable for part of the cost of paving on a basis of 18 inches on each side of the track, as specified in the bond issue act, or 12 inches, as provided by charter. The city accepted payment for the Tidewater's proportionate part of the paving on a basis of 12 inches, which the Tidewater contends is all that it is liable for, but reserved the right to sue for the balance claimed, and the suit started yesterday is for the difference between 12 and 18 inches.

In the suit against the Bellwill Cotton Mills the municipality asks that the court decree that Wooster street, from Curry to the river, has been legally and formally dedicated to the city, and that a restraining order be issued restraining the defendants from interfering with the plaintiff in the laying of sewer lines upon the street. It will be remembered that when the work of extending the sewer system reached this point several months ago, the men were halted by Jno. D. Bellamy, Esq., president of the Bellwill Mills, that company claiming title to the land in question.

Y. W. C. A. EDUCATIONAL WORK

Classes Now Being Organized And Will Begin Having Lessons The First Week in November

An important part of the work of the Young Women's Christian Association this winter will be the educational classes which are now being organized and which will begin having lessons the first week in November. Expert instructors have been obtained for the different courses which will be given and it is hoped that there will be a large enrollment. Miss Trout, secretary of the association, will be glad to talk with anyone desiring to take any of the courses to be given. She can be seen at the association building, No. 114 North Fourth street.

The schedule of the classes has not yet been completed, but it is expected to have it ready within the next few days. The prospectus, giving an outline of the various activities of the association, is now in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution in a short time.

The schedule of courses includes evening classes for business girls and morning and afternoon classes for housekeepers and women of leisure.

The committee in charge of the educational work has been fortunate in securing Dr. Robert R. Shuman as instructor of the class in first aid to the injured. This is a course of 12 lessons under the auspices of the American Red Cross Society and the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association. Upon completion of the course a joint certificate is offered by the Red Cross and the National Board which will be signed by the President of the United States and the president of the National Board. The class will have actual practice in bandaging and other features of practical work so that those who take the course will be able to take the course. The tuition charge for the course will be $1.

A class in practical sewing, cutting, knitting and making one piece dresses and shirtwaists has been arranged with Miss Julia Yopp as instructor. This will meet on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Miss Grace Logan, teacher of domestic science in the Wilmington High School, will give a course in the practical things that every girl should know, such as planning nutritious meals, preparing appetizing dishes and serving daintily.

These are only a few of a large number of classes which will be organized. Announcements of other courses to be given by the association will be made later.

EDUCATIONAL COURSES OFFERED BY Y. W. C. A.
Young Men Interested in Them Requested to Enroll Tonight.

A new feature of the Young Men's Christian Association this year will be the educational work which will be inaugurated tonight at the association building. The purpose of these courses is to give working boys and young men an opportunity to fit themselves for larger service. Courses will be given in reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, shorthand and typewriting, bookkeeping, elementary mechanical and architectural drawing and English for foreigners.

The cost has been placed at a minimum and the association does not expect to derive any revenue from this source. Only enough will be charged to pay the actual expenses. The cost of an educational membership is $4 a year and the tuition for the different courses will be $2.50 a term with the exception of the elementary course, which will be only $1.50 a term.

Teachers have already been secured for the different courses and they will be at the association building tonight at 7:30 o'clock to meet those who wish to enroll. The classes will be organized at this time. Messrs. T. M. Hamman and Geo. B. Strong, of the High School faculty, will be the instructors in the elementary course which consists of reading, writing, arithmetic and spelling. Mr. J. D. Edwards will teach the class in shorthand and typewriting, and Mr. L. Williams will be the instructor in bookkeeping. Messrs. H. L. Collins and J. L. Wilcox will have charge of the classes in elementary and mechanical drawing.

Delegates to Seventh Convention of State Association Appointed by Mr. M. S. Willard

Ten delegates from New Hanover county to the seventh annual convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association, which will be held at Wilson on November 18th and 19th, have been appointed by Mr. M. S. Willard, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, in response to a request from Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, president and treasurer of the organization. Mr. A. B. Skelding, of this city, is secretary of the association.

The delegates appointed by Mr. Willard are: Messrs. M. F. H. Gougeon, R. F. Keith, H. M. Chase, W. B. Brice, D. L. Gore, C. Van Leuven, M. G. Tiencken, L. J. P. Herring and Alex. O. McCasheen. Mr. Willard has been appointed a delegate by Dr. Pratt.

The drainage association has for its object the reclamation of the swamp and overgrown lands of the State. A recent bulletin, prepared by the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey, shows that the drainage work of North Carolina has now assumed large proportions and is meaning much to the people of the commonwealth, not only from an economic standpoint in the reclamation of valuable agricultural lands, but also from the standpoint of health.

Vast areas of Eastern North Carolina, which, before drainage, were not only worthless, but were a menace to public health, are now yielding large revenues to the state and are being made desirable places for residence through the elimination of the malarial mosquitoes. The drainage of the creek and river bottoms of Piedmont and western North Carolina is also being pushed forward rapidly and is proving of inestimable value to these sections.

The cost of draining the swamp lands of eastern North Carolina varies from $4 to $6 per acre, while the drainage of the overflowed areas of the Piedmont section will vary from $15 to $20 or more per acre. In every instance, however, where drainage has been organized and the drainage work completed, most gratifying and satisfactory results have been obtained which have converted nearly all the people in the district to drainage enthusiasts.

There are now 80 districts organized or in the process of organization. Many of these are completed and crops are now growing where a few years ago there was nothing but swamps and mosquitoes. There are 46 districts in the swamp areas, and 34 districts in the overflowed areas that will reclaim an aggregate of 942,121 acres. Of these districts 24 are already completed, representing an acreage of 247,041 already reclaimed.

MEETING OF MINISTERS.

Regular Weekly Session of Ministerial Association Yesterday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Wilmington Ministerial Association was held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, president of the organization, presided and Mr. J. B. Huntington, secretary, kept a record of the proceedings. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church.

Dr. Milton made a most helpful address on the work of the minister. He mentioned some of the perplexing problems which face the pastor in his daily work and gave some valuable suggestions for their solution.

Rev. H. F. Healy, of Placetas, Cuba, who is spending a few days in the city, was introduced to the association and spoke briefly of his work as a missionary in that country.

Students and Parents of Masonboro School Hear Interesting Address Yesterday Afternoon

An address on health and sanitation by Dr. C. W. Stiles, professor in charge of the United States Marine Hospital, was the principal feature of a most interesting and instructive occasion at the Masonboro public school yesterday afternoon. Besides the pupils of the school there were many of their parents present, especially of the mothers. Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. John Thames, assistant county health officer, were present and made short addresses.

Dr. Stiles spoke particularly of the methods that should be used to prevent the spread of disease. He spoke especially of the necessity of getting rid of the mosquito, which he showed how this pesky insect is responsible for malaria and the great harm that it does in other ways. The address was made in his usual clear and instructive style and was heard with the greatest interest.

Dr. Thames did not speak at length, stating that he would have ample opportunity at other times to speak to the pupils. He said that it gave him great pleasure to endorse what Dr. Stiles had said.

Professor Catlett talked especially to the parents present, explaining first what they should expect of the teachers and others who have charge of the school and following this explained what the parents could do to improve the school. He endorsed the movement for the organization of Mother's clubs and expressed his approval of the splendid work that these organizations are doing in New Hanover county.

Mr. Addison Hewlett, a member of the school committee, was present and announced that two prizes of $5 and $2 would be given for the first and second best essays, respectively, by the school children on the subject discussed by Dr. Stiles. The children are to be given a month to write the essays and the papers are to be judged by Supt. John J. Blair, of the Wilmington graded schools. Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent, and Mrs. Fennell, principal of the Northside school.

The teachers of the Masonboro school are Misses Beale Kelly and Lucy Williams. Although the school has only been open since the first of the month, the children are doing most excellent work. The singing of several songs by them previous to the address was an enjoyable feature of the occasion.

Among those present at the meeting yesterday besides the speakers were Mrs. C. W. Stiles, Mrs. W. L. Parsley, Mrs. Henry Paschou and the Misses Casaux.

Following the meeting at the school Dr. and Mrs. Stiles, Professor Catlett and Dr. Thames visited the beautiful country home of Mrs. Parsley at Masonboro, where they were entertained most delightfully.

The date for the dedication of the handsome new building has not been decided upon as yet, and will depend on the progress made by the workmen in putting on the finishing touches of the building. However, it will be within the next week or two.

Six Negroes Sent to Superior Court on Charges of Grand Larceny. Several Go to Roads.

Even for a Monday morning the docket confronting the Recorder yesterday was unusually long and it was not until after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon that it was finally disposed of and then only after a number of cases had been continued until today. Probable cause was found in cases against Moses-Sharpless, Eddie Brown, Jefferson Small, William Shaw, Alex. MacRae and James Bendall, all colored, charged with grand larceny and they will be tried at the next term of Superior court.

Moses Sharpless waived examination and turned state's evidence. It was upon information obtained from him that the other five were arrested by the police. Sharpless said that they were implicated in several robberies which have occurred in the vicinity of the Seaboard freight yards in the last several weeks. All of the negroes went to jail in default of bond in the sum of $100 each.

Chum Brinkley and Preston Bishop, both colored, alleged to have been the persons who cursed long and loudly in the vicinity of the James Walker Memorial Hospital Sunday night, were each given six months on the county roads. Randolph Sanders, colored, went to the roads for two months on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. George Wilson, colored, who was alleged to have shot at his brother but missed him, was fined $25 and the costs and sent to the roads for three months in default. James Seadell, colored, charged with assault on a female, was told that he could take his choice pay $10 and the costs or go to the roads for 60 days.

R. E. Windham and E. S. Piver, both white, were declared, not guilty of drinking whiskey on the streets. Judgment was suspended in a case against Clayton McLaren, colored, charged with the larceny of a piece of meat. Sam Hawkins, colored, paid $10 and the costs for carrying concealed weapons. Hester McMain, colored, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, was found guilty and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days. A case against Bud Hill, colored, charged with an assault, was not proseed.

Mr. E. L. Starkey, charged with retailing Jamaica ginger, will have a hearing Thursday. Max Bentley, white, charged with disorderly conduct, was taxed with the costs. She appealed to Superior court and her bond was fixed at $25, which she gave.

Jim Davis, colored, whose home in the rear of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, was raided Sunday morning by Police H. H. Ballard, J. S. Lane, C. G. Jones and Leon George and who was subsequently charged with violating the prohibition law, will have a hearing this morning.

Other cases continued were: Joe Johnson, charged with vagrancy; Katie Cambrick, charged with violating the prohibition law; Carey Patterson, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon. All of these are colored.

AUTOMOBILE SMASHED BY CAR.

Carl Bryant, Colored, Was Miraculously Escaped.

An automobile owned by Mr. Jos. N. Jacobl was badly damaged and the driver, Carl Bryant, colored, had a miraculous escape from serious injury when the machine collided with a suburban trolley car of the Tidewater Power Company at Sixth and Princess streets Sunday afternoon. The beach car was coming into the city and the car was going south on Sixth street. There was no one in the automobile except Bryant. He attempted to run the machine across Princess street ahead of the car but was unable to do so.

The motorman on the trolley car said that when he saw Bryant going at considerable speed, he applied the emergency brake, stopping the car and he stated that the chauffeur applied more speed to his machine in order to get across in front of the beach car. The automobile was jammed under the electric car, breaking up the front wheels of the machine and smashing one of the steps of the beach car.

In order to pull the automobile away from the electric car it was necessary to get jacks and raise the car up. This delayed traffic for nearly half an hour and deranged the car schedules considerably.

Sold to Mr. Waddell.

Mr. E. S. Waddell, former president of the Waverly Furniture Company, who went into the hands of receivers several weeks ago, has purchased the assets of the company, save for cash on hand and the equities in real estate. The sale was made by the receivers, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., and Mr. Henderson Cole, at will be in possession of the court, and the consideration was $1,025.

Basketball Captains to Meet.

The captains of the Y. M. C. A. basketball teams will meet at the association building tonight at 9 o'clock for the purpose of lining up their team. There will be a meeting of the leaders' corps Thursday night at 9 o'clock. This will be the first meeting since the opening of the association year.

Girlish Complexion Now Easily Acquired

"A skin of blended snow, cream and rose" is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted mercolised as a place cosmetics, massage, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous wax report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own," the result of gradually absorbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself, and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Mercolised wax, procurable at any drug store in original one ounce package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the wrinkle-removing face bath which I recommended recently. If any have mislaid the formula, here it is: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in 1/2 pt. witch hazel.—"Natalie," in The Woman Militant.

"BULLET JOE" AND HIS BRIDE

Joe Bush, the twirling sensation of the 1913 World Series, who was again depended on to stop the Boston's in the final game of the series this year, was married soon after his return to Philadelphia to Miss Sylvia E. McMahon. "Bullet Joe" was attended by Jimmy Walsh, his teammate. The only other members of the Athletics who were present at the wedding were Frank Baker and Harry Davis, both of whom were accompanied by their wives. About 100 persons were waiting outside the church when Bush arrived. Mr. and Mrs. Bush will go around the world with the all-star baseball team that Bush has just joined for the winter. He met his bride last summer. She is the daughter of Francis X. McMahon, of Bordentown, N. J., but has been living with her aunt in Philadelphia. She is 18 years old, and her husband is three years her senior.

A wedding that was a surprise to many friends was that of Mr. Lehman Wood and Miss Alice Doster, daughter of Mr. Thos. W. Doster, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of Calvary Baptist church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. A. Sullivan. The

WEDS MISS PEARL JACKSON

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 19.—There was a beautiful wedding of a popular young couple in the First Baptist church Wednesday morning, when Miss Pearl Bryant Jackson, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Jackson, became the bride of Dr. Oscar L. McFadyen, of Stedman. Rev. Joel S. Snyder officiated. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. W. B. Malloy. Miss Mary Murphree, maid of honor, and Dr. T. M. West best man. The ushers were Dr. William S. Jordan, J. D. Jones, Dr. L. G. Hair and T. S. Tolar.

Doctor and Mrs. McFadyen are now in the North on a bridal trip. They will be at home in Stedman on their return.

MISS MARY WARD RETURNS

FROM CHINESE MISSION FIELD

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 19.—A telegram received in New Bern from State Senator A. D. Ward, announced the safe arrival of his daughter, Miss Mary Ward, at San Francisco from Peking, China, where she has been visiting for the past year. Miss Ward went to China in October, 1913, and no anxiety was felt for her safety until the outbreak of the Chinese revolution. It was feared that hostilities might reach that section and Senator Ward advised her to return to the United States without any delay. However, no apprehension was felt there and the young lady remained until the time she had first set to return home. Senator Ward and his daughter will probably spend several days on the coast before starting on the return journey to New Bern and it will probably be the latter part of this month before they reach home.

FIRST UNIVERSITY

SERMON OF THE YEAR.

Preached Sunday by Rev. Edwin J. Heath, of Winston-Salem.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 19.—Rev. Edwin J. Heath, of Winston-Salem, Sunday gave the first University sermon of the year on the subject "The Jacobite Attitude of the World Today." He took his text from Genesis 32:23, and described the position of Jacob wrestling with God as that of a man wrestling with a serious problem in his life, and declared that unless the man asked help of God he must ultimately lose, for no man liveth to himself or dieth to himself.

The whole age in which we live is Jacobite in that it is bent entirely on success and carelessness as to the means by which this success is obtained. The age is too much given to worldly pursuits and therefore careless as to embroiling the whole world in war. And yet Mr. Heath expressed the opinion and hope that the time will come when all nations will follow the law of God and bloodshed shall cease in the world. Jesus Christ is the direct answer to Jacob's request for blessing. We have that blessing still today, and if when we are torn by doubt and fear we lay hold on Jesus Christ, He will carry us through.

ASSISTANT RECTOR CALLED.

Vestry of St. James' Church Extend Call to Rev. Wm. J. Gordon.

The vestry of St. James' church has extended a call to Rev. William J. Gordon, of Spray, N. C., to become assistant rector of this church. The announcement of the action of the vestry was made at the morning service Sunday by the rector, Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton.

Mr. Gordon is a young minister who is now doing mission work at Spray, where he is said to be making a most gratifying success. He is well known in Wilmington and has a number of relatives here. Should he accept the call extended to him, he will take up his new duties about the first of the year.

"THE CAR OF MYSTERY"

W. D. MacMillan, Jr., Selected as Dodge Representative in Wilmington.

Of interest generally in automobile trade circles for the past several months has been the mystery as to what car it was that was known and elsewhere in today's paper Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., announces that he has been selected by the Dodge people as the distributor of these cars for this district. The Dodge people have for years been leading manufacturers of parts for the higher class automobiles and some months ago announced this season that they had decided to combine with their building of automobiles for other manufacturers a car of their own.

So well known were the Dodge manufacturers, so well known was their product that the automobile industry awaited their announcement. This has not come yet, but the "Car of Mystery." The leading agent in each city was selected in the opinion of the Dodge people and they were asked to handle the cars on the Dodge record. Thousands of agencies have thus been taken solely on the Dodge reputation, without the least idea on the part of the agents as to what the new car will be or at what price it will be marketed. Trade journals all over the country have prepared the public for a sensation in the automobile line and that is all there is known. Mr. MacMillan will soon introduce the car to Wilmington and his announcement now is merely preliminary. The complete announcement must come later. The price, the type of car and all else still remains a mystery, but it will be backed by the Dodge guarantee and that is considered all sufficient by those who know of the prowess of the Dodge people in the automobile industry.

THEATRICAL

One has to look a long, long way into the theatrical past to recall the debut of that funny pair, McIntyre and Heath on the stage, who will appear in John Cort's elaborate revival of "The Ham Tree" at the Academy of Music on Friday of this week, one night only. Seats at Woodall & Sheppard's Tuesday, 6 o'clock.

They were featured and headlined in the best vaudeville theatres long before most of the other famous "teams" of stagehand ever had been heard of, and their methods haven't changed much in all that time, for which their audiences rejoice exceedingly. Time has ripened and improved them and they are funnier this year, in the midst of their brilliant company, with which Mr. Cort has surrounded them, than they were ever of old, when just two of them were able to pack the biggest vaudeville houses in the country, and they prove anew this year their ability to hold the stage alone almost ad libitum, without wearying their friends in the auditorium.

"The Ham Tree" is an elaboration of their old vaudeville sketch into a rattling good entertainment with up-to-date music and it is claimed one of the most agile feminine choruses Ned Wayburn ever trained. This chorus was chosen for its ability to sing and dance, as well as to look pretty. The performance is a modern musical comedy, running on the same old time to an accompaniment of laughter, and shows how well George V. Hobart, William Jerome and Jean Schwartz

For to play all this which are a lien against any of the trust property to the extent of the net proceeds of the property upon which such debt is a lien.

"GOOD CITIZENSHIP DAY"

A feature of "Good Citizenship Day" which was observed by the Christian Endeavor Societies of the city and county at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church Sunday evening, was an address by Mayor P. Q. Moore. There was a large audience of young people present at the exercises. Mayor Moore praised in the highest terms the splendid work which the people of Wilmington are doing toward wiping out lawlessness and of the success of movement, constructive lines of civic righteousness.

Special music for the occasion was rendered by the Christian Endeavor orchestra of St. Andrew's and Miss Telford, who gave a violin solo with Miss Thomas as accompanist.

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure made the opening prayer following which Mr. B. C. McFarland read the scripture reading, B. B. Reynolds spoke of the purpose of "Good Citizenship Day." The closing prayer was made by Mr. S. A. Matthews.

Mr. T. B. Matthews Dead.

Local Pythians have been grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Thos. B. Matthews, of Covington, Ky., for many years a prominent member of the order. As chairman of the finance committee Mr. Matthews visited this city several times to confer with Capt. T. D. Meares, Supreme Master of the Exchequer. His death occurred Sunday, according to a telegram received by Captain Meares.

ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT

AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Baraca class of the First Baptist church gave a most enjoyable entertainment in the church parlors last evening and the pleasant event was attended by a large number of members and their friends. The programme was opened by a short address by Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, the pastor.

Miss Lila Keith rendered a very enjoyable vocal solo, and Mrs. E. T. Burton gave an interesting recitation. A quartette composed of Miss Carrie White, soprano; Mrs. F. A. Muse, alto; Mr. Chas. Schulken, tenor, and Mr. W. B. Muse, bass, and Miss Carrie Chasten, accompanist, rendered a selection that was much enjoyed.

Rev. W. Marshall Craig, assistant pastor, made an interesting address, and the entertainment features were brought to a close by a bass solo by Mr. Wise. Delicious refreshments were served.

INTERESTING EVENTS IN

WHITEVILLE SOCIAL CIRCLES

Whiteville, Oct. 19.—On Thursday afternoon from four until six o'clock, Mrs. A. Elmo Powell entertained the Woman's Club and the ladies of the faculty of the Whiteville High School. Receiving at the door was Mrs. Robert Jackson Powell, assisted by Mrs. Robert Calvin Powell, who showed the guests to the cloak room, whence to the Hall where delicious fruit punch was gracefully dispensed by Misses Carrie George Andrews and Lucy Beers Powell from a well in a block of ice, the ice being surrounded by dainty asparagus ferns and cosmos. Tall vases of cosmos and chrysanthemums completed the hall decorations.

Receiving with Mrs. Powell were Mrs. R. H. Powell, Mrs. Thomas C. Johnson, of Lumberton, and Mrs. Isaac Jackson. Magnificent chrysanthemums in delicate shades of lavender and pink made the room a bower of beauty. Here two bewitching little maids, Etta Hamilton Powell and Elizabeth McKinnon Powell, daughter and niece of the hostess, gave each guest a tally directing them to tables arranged in several rooms for a miscellaneous contest which afforded much merriment.

The prize, a gorgeous bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums was won by Mrs. Sath L. Smith, and gracefully presented by the hostess, with the request that she look at chrysanthemums but "wear cotton." This "wear cotton" movement was suggested by the hostess in many unique forms during the afternoon.

Mrs. R. C. Carson yesterday afternoon delightfully entertained a few friends at an informal tea in honor of the ladies of the faculty of the Whiteville High School. Enjoying Mrs. Carson's hospitality were Messdames Joseph A. Brown, of Chadbourne; L. V. Grady, S. L. Smith; R. J. Powell, Irvin H. Tucker and Misses Sallie Smith, Mable Highsmith, Hattie Harrell, Campbell, Smith, Hattie, Woodard, and Shell of the faculty.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Brewster left the latter part of the week for Washington, D. C., where Dr. Brewster will be associated with the Bureau of Chemistry, Department of Agriculture. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schulken returned today from Richmond, where Mr. Schulken has been attending the American Bankers Association.

port themselves in are stunning, too. There is nothing especially novel and well set in the offering made by Harold Yates, the well known mimic and imitator. He presents a sketch called "Miniature Vaudeville" and during which he produces a whole vaudeville show. He was the recipient of numerous encores. A good act is also offered by Griffin and Lewis, during which there is some merry fiddling.

The changed scale of prices at the Victoria, 10, 15 and 25 cents, is also making a big hit.

5 Reels—5 Cents—Bijou.

Barring tomorrow, when the "Trey O' Hearts" is scheduled, today will be absolutely the biggest day the people's popular photoplay house. This is a straight tip. The Making will be no other day during the week when you will have the opportunity of seeing as many of the biggest screen stars as went out the Bijou, when no less than a half dozen of the world's most famous stars appear in the five reels of movies that will be presented—every one of them real leading men and women whom you all know.

Leading the list is that famous two-reel Rex dramatic release, "The Pipes of Pan," a full two-reel special feature that will undoubtedly be voted one of the best. In the leading roles of this big number Miss Pauline Bush and Joe King, two of the best known screen stars, appear, supported by a cast that contains some other familiar names. This is a virile, wholesome drama in two full reels.

Then comes another popular couple—Warren Kerrigan and Vera Sisson. Little Vera Sisson, in the Victor drama, "The Proof of a Man."

The other two numbers on today are Mutual Movies, everyone of which is just a little better than the one before it. The first is a dramatic feature, "The Butterfly" in which appears Miss Winnifred Greenwood and Ed George Field.

Then there's that big mutual release, "Suzanna's New Suit," in which is featured that beautiful star, Margaritha Fischer, supported by Harry Pollard and Mary Scott.

Again this brilliant offering. If you didn't witness the great Paramount Picture, "The Making of Bobby Burnit," with the noted comedian, Edward Aheles, in the title role, yesterday at the Grand Theatre, why you have one more chance to make up for this deficiency, as the masterly Paramount will be presented at the Grand Theatre again today. It is a brilliant and to be told it is just the same as seated in a big Broadway theatre witnessing the production when it was made there recently and scored one of the biggest triumphs New York has ever known. It is a crowd of pictures are magnificently different from all others and the people of Wilmington have already learned to appreciate this as well as the other.

Tomorrow the Grand will offer epically young people, the channelisation project on the upper Cape Fear, spent yesterday at Fort Caswell on an inspection trip.

Major H. W. Stickle, United States District Engineer, and Captain Hildy, who has charge of the canalisation project on the upper Cape Fear, spent yesterday at Fort Caswell on an inspection trip.

Mr. J. E. Wade left Sunday afternoon for Savannah, Ga., where he will spend a few days on business.

Dr. J. M. Northington, of Boardman, arrived in the city yesterday to attend the fall reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons which begins this morning.

Mr. B. F. Logan, credit manager of the Simmons Manufacturing Co., of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent yesterday in the city on business. He is making a tour of the South and is accompanied by Mrs. Logan.

Included in the arrivals at the Hotel Wilmington yesterday were: J. E. Kelly, Mt. Olive; Gilbert Hay, Raleigh; C. E. Winston, Cerra Gordo; R. Wild, Fort Caswell; J. H. Harrison, High Point; A. E. Lynde, Florence; C. A. Hyman, Darlington, S. C.

Negro Held Inmate.

John Couton, colored, about 33 years of age, was declared to be insane following an investigation by the Clerk of Superior Court yesterday. An effort will be made to have the negro admitted to the State asylum for colored insane at Goldsboro. In the meantime Couton's family will look after him, Clerk Harrison not deeming his condition aggravated enough to warrant his being placed in jail.

FISHING STEAMERS HELD UP

Attachment and Libel Proceedings in State and Federal Courts Tie Three Vessels Up Here

Three fishing steamers, the Portland, the Lawrence and the Adroit, owned or operated by the Fisheries Company and the Atlantic Phosphate & Oil Corporation, are docked at the wharves of the Springer Coal Company and the old Clyde terminals, held under attachment and libel proceedings instituted in Superior court and the United States District court by several local business men and firms and also by seamen on the vessels.

Action was begun in both courts last week by the Weller Coal Company, of Jacksonville, Fla., for amounts alleged to be due for coal, and yesterday further libel actions were begun by seamen on the vessels for wages alleged to be due. Attachment proceedings were started in Superior court yesterday by J. J. Hopkins son & Co., trading as the White Market, for amounts alleged to be due for supplies, and similar action was taken against the Lawrence by Mr. D. N. Chadwick, Jr., for funds claimed to have been advanced for coal. The papers from Superior Court were served by Deputy Sheriff Reynolds and in the United States court by Deputy Marshall Fennell.

The total of the amounts alleged to be due is something under $5,000. The total claim of the Weller Coal Company is about $400; J. J. Hopkins son & Co. has claims against the three boats totalling $996.27 and Mr. D. N. Chadwick's claim is $225, while the total claims of the seamen are approximately $2,500.

The amounts alleged to be due by the owners of the Lawrence are $771 to the Weller Coal Company, of Jacksonville, Fla., for coal; $218.34 to J. J. Hopkins son & Co., for supplies; $255 to Mr. D. N. Chadwick, Jr., for money advanced for coal and about $1,300 wages to the seamen.

The claims against the owners of the Portland include $314.94 wages to the seamen and $125.07 for J. J. Hopkins son & Co., for supplies.

Claims against the Adroit include about $150 alleged to be due the seamen and $352.86 for supplies to J. J. Hopkins son & Co.

It was stated last evening that the vessels would probably arrange to give bond today.

ATTITUDE NOT CHANGED

President Wilson Reiterates That United States Is Neutral

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Wilson reiterated today that the American government's attitude toward belligerent nations in Europe had not changed. This attitude, set forth several weeks ago by Secretary Bryan, is that the government considers loans as not in the spirit of "true neutrality."

Reports that the administration had changed its position have been circulated as a result of the publication of an opinion from a high government official that under international law the United States had no right to prohibit loans to belligerent nations. Officials explained that this opinion and the President's statement was consistent since Secretary Bryan did not claim that the government had a legal right to prevent loans.

Capital of Holland.

A gentleman—no the best of our recollection, a retired linen draper—went into school one day with the intention of putting the fifth standard through their paces in the geography of Europe. He began, "What is the capital of Holland?" "Capital, H." was the crushing rejoinder from the smart boy of the class. The ex-linen draper did not pursue his geographical inquiries further—Cornhill Magazine.

CRAIG HAS NO NOTION TO CALL LEGISLATURE

No Great Demand From People For Extra Session.

New Causes for Complaint Against "Long and Short Haul" Clause of New Rate Act is Being Developed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 19.—Reports of impending conference between Governor Craig and the Council of State and probable determination to call a special session of the Legislature to comply with Senator Bankhead's proposition to issue $25,000,000 State bonds in $5 to $50 denominations to issue on cotton property stored and insured, are, in the absence of Governor Craig from the city, declared at the executive offices to be entirely unfounded. Indeed, it is stated that there are no demands coming in from any part of the State for this course and it is pointed out that the Governor and Council of State some weeks ago definitely decided that there would be no call for an extra session.

The Charlotte meeting and then the Senator Bankhead meeting in Raleigh last week are all the demands that have been made and the Governor has made it clear that he would not swerve from his decision to not call the Legislature in extra session except through a very widespread and almost unanimous demand on the part of the people for such action. On the other hand, it is learned that there are being received at the executive offices letters from numbers of people, including prominent farmers, insisting that there should not be any special session of the Legislature convened.

The Governor is at Winston-Salem today and will be here tomorrow forenoon, the morning being taken up principally with the address for the opening of the State Fair. Then he leaves the city in the afternoon for a week's absence, making campaign speeches in Newton Thursday and in Asheville Friday. Furthermore, there is not a quorum of the Council of State in the city just now, if a meeting of the council were desired by the Governor at this time.

"Long and Short Haul."

New causes for complaint against the "long and short haul" clause of the Justice Rate act, in connection with the application of the new tariff of rates fixed by the special rate commission, are being developed by business interests in all parts of the State and being referred to the Corporation Commission, with appeals for relief. The latest, reported by the Washington chamber of commerce and by many business concerns in all sections, is that it develops that shippers who have their plants on one or another railroad line and have had those lines handle their shipments, although long hauls, on the basis of the competitive short haul rates, can no longer have shipments handled in this way, but they have to haul their shipments to the railroad that has the short line to the point of destination for the specific shipment, thereby increasing cost of handling goods and nullifying their point of vantage in being located on a railroad line, objects attained in many instances at great expense.

The Washington chamber of commerce also complains that the "long and short haul clause" has deprived Washington of the advantage of competitive rates on the Washington & Vandalia Railroad greatly to the injury of the wholesale interests of Washington, and has made it impossible for shipments to be made over the Atlantic Coast Line from Washington to Greenville, Wilson and other points that have short line connections with Washington through the Norfolk Southern. It is this condition at Washington that also causes the destruction of advantage shippers have had in having warehouses on the Atlantic Coast Line, for instance, in the past to save cost in handling goods, having now to haul their shipments to whatever other line has the short haul route that is given a monopoly in ship-

PROGRESS DELAYED ON PENDING REVENUE BILL

Congressman Henry Leads the Fight for Cotton in House.

Bill Is Sent Back to Committee to Consider Senate Amendments—Was to Have Gone to Conference Yesterday

Washington, Oct. 19.—Obstructive tactics in the House delayed progress today on the war revenue bill. Instead of referring the bill to conference, as administration leaders had expected, it was sent back to the Ways and Means committee for consideration of the 98 Senate amendments, on demand of Representative Henry, of Texas, who has insisted there should be some cotton relief legislation before Congress adjourns.

Chairman Underwood said the committee would recommend tomorrow that the House disagree to all Senate amendments.

"What the House will do, I do not know," he added, "but I believe the general temper of the members is to send the bill to conference and get away as soon as possible. If they insist upon discussing amendments and sticking to all the rules, we cannot possibly get through for another week."

Representative Henry said tonight he would insist upon a quorum before final disposition of the bill and would make another effort to get action on his proposal of a $250,000,000 government bond issue for relief of the cotton states.

Secretary McAdoo was asked today to appear before the House rules committee tomorrow to present his views regarding relief for the cotton situation. Democratic members of the committee conferred again regarding the Henry bill but reached no decision pending Secretary McAdoo's decision.

Chairman Henry said later he believed the matter would be presented to the House tomorrow or Wednesday in such shape that some action would be possible. The Henry plan is to have the committee report out an omnibus rule for bringing up the Lever cotton warehouse licensing bill, which has passed the Senate, Federal Reserve law amendments already passed by the Senate and the Henry bill.

ments through the operation of the long and short haul clause. It is recalled that General Traffic Manager L. Green, of the Southern, and other railroad officials have contended all along that it was the shippers and not the railroad companies that had most to suffer in the "long and short haul clause" were put into effect and that the cry for relief would come "fast and furious" from the shippers when its effects were actually demonstrated.

Governor Did Not Act

Governor Craig did not call a meeting of the Council of State as he was urged to do by United States Senator Bankhead and James H. Poy, to decide on the calling of a special session of the Legislature to act on the cotton situation as soon as the general election returns in November show who constitutes the new legislative body. The Governor would not comment on the situation, except to say that some of the members of the Council of State were out of the city. He would not say that he had any intention of calling the council together on this question or of ultimately calling the extra session proposed.

The suggestion of Senator Bankhead, endorsed by Mr. Poy, is that the Legislature authorize the issuance of $25,000,000 in bonds of the denominations of $5, 10, $20, $50, $100 and $1,000 the last named denomination to bear interest and the bonds to run for three years. It seems that if the Legislature were to be called together and adopted the plan there would have to be an election called for a constitutional amendment to authorize such a bond issue as is required.

Outer Gardens of Paris.

The city of Paris has large and varied plantations just outside the fortifications, where flowers, exotic shrubs and trees are raised. One hundred and thirteen greenhouses for plants, exotic shrubs and flowers are heated from one central heating plant, distributing hot water through a nine and one-half mile system of pipes. The object of this central heating organization is not, as the head gardener explains, with a view of economy. In fact such a system is far more costly than separate installations for each group of hot-houses, but is thus arranged to avoid the existence of a series of unsightly chimneys which would destroy the artistic effect of the grounds, which are more or less a public resort and show place.

Like Famous Mosques of the Orient, Vast Domes Rise High In the Heavens

A glimpse of the splendors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. This photograph shows the classic Palace of Horticulture, rich in ornamentation and detail. Its stupendous glass dome, 186 feet in height and 152 feet in diameter, is the marvel of sightseers.

THE magnificence of the open air horticultural display and of the wonderful landscape gardens at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is apparent in the panoramic photograph above. The most striking feature of the photograph is, of course, the vast Palace of Horticulture, a great building Saracenic in its architecture and in relation to its dome and minarets suggesting the mosque of the Sultan Ahmed I. The detail and ornamentation are of the sixteenth century French renaissance, while the exquisite wooden trellis work is derived from the garden architecture of the Louis XIV. period.

The principal feature of the palace is a huge steel dome 186 feet high and 152 feet in diameter and covered with glass. At night the dome will be illuminated from within by colored searchlights, which will cause it to seem to be alive with light, sparkling with all the colors of the spectrum, like some giant soap bubble. A revolving disk with segments of different colors will pass over a battery of powerful searchlights, and these colored rays will be diffused through varied shaded lenses.

To a sightseer on a ship in San Francisco harbor, four or five miles from the Exposition site, the huge glass dome of the palace seems like a shimmering mirror. It stands out as one of the most conspicuous features among the lofty domes and minarets of the magic city of palaces on the shores of San Francisco bay. The Exposition will open on Feb. 20 and close on Dec. 4, 1915. This picture was taken in July, 1914.

SENTIMENT FOR THE AMENDMENTS GROWING

Former Opponents Now Favor Their Adoption.

Tom Pence Has Two Million Copies of Wilson's Letter Printed for General Distribution as Campaign Document

(Special Star Telegram)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—R. R. Williams, Democratic nominee for the Legislature from Buncombe county, said to-day that the sentiment in favor of the Constitutional amendments is growing. He said that many men who were against the amendments some weeks ago are now favoring their adoption.

"The sentiment in favor of the constitutional amendments is growing rapidly," said Mr. Williams. "I find that many men who were against these just measures some weeks ago have now come out in favor of them."

Mr. Williams argued a case before the Supreme court to-day and will return to Asheville to-morrow or next day. He says the people are whooping it up for Wilson and the Democratic administration in North Carolina.

Orders Two Million Copies
Thos. J. Pence, the "wheel horse" of the Wilson administration, has ordered two million copies of President Wilson's letter to Oscar Underwood commending the Democratic Congress. Tom knows a good letter when he sees it. When he read the Wilson letter, he made up his mind that it was a pretty good document and he gave an order to the public printer for two million.

"I may need another million," said Tom, before hanging up the receiver, "but two million copies to-day will be all I can use." Representative Godwin, Page, Doughter and Gaudier will be supplied with copies for home consumption. P. R. A.

From Trieste it is reported also that insurrectionary bands are swarming in all parts of the Austrian empire. The attitude of Slav troops forming garrisons at Pola and Sebenico is said to be menacing and disaffection is reported in the Austrian fleet, where crews are made up in part of Slavs and Italians."

This is said to have been done to combat the dictatorship of Enver Pasha, minister of war, and German influence."

HOME AND FARM PRODUCTS
EXHIBITION AT FAISON
Proves a Successful Event Despite Inclement Weather and War

(Special Star Correspondence)
Faison, N. C., Oct. 19.—The inclement weather and "war talk" did not lessen the community spirit among the people of this section when on Thursday and Friday they met at the fourth annual Home and farm product Exhibition. The academy building and grounds were kindly tendered for use, and well fitted for the purpose. The auditorium of the building was tastefully decorated, and within was shown the very clever hand work of the ladies in embroidery and fancy work, well executed drawings by the pupils. The good house-wives showed the results of many hours of thought and labor in the exhibits of preserves, canned goods, cakes and butter.

The farmers vied with each other in the exhibits of farm products in great abundance. Cotton though now de-throned was strongly represented in well filled stalks of fleecy staple, while alongside hung bunches of peanuts and tobacco. The stock exhibit represented by well bred hogs, cows and horses, and the chickens of several breeds had their admirers. The weather interfered with outdoor sport, usually held, nevertheless "ye olde time" tournament held sway to the amusement of the crowd.

This annual event is peculiar, in that no admission is charged, and that the exhibits, (other than live stock) are donated and sold at auction to defray expenses.

A CATHEDRAL GERMANS DIDN'T BURN

The Belgians who hurried from Antwerp on the approach of the German armies gave out stories that it was expected the Germans would burn the wonderful cathedral of Notre Dame, which is one of the chief ornaments of the city. GENERAL VILLA SAYS THAT TROUBLE IS OVER

Inform United States Government of Support

Declares That He Will Support Any One for Provisional President Selected by the Convention—Villareal.

Washington, Oct. 19.—General Villa has informed the United States government that unless something unforeseen occurs, hostilities in Mexico are at an end and that he will support any provisional government set up by the national convention at Aguas Calientes. Villa said he would not accept Carranza as provisional president, but was satisfied he would not be chosen. It generally is understood Carranza does not desire to be provisional president, wishing to be free to enter the presidential race at the succeeding election. Latest State Department reports describe the visit Saturday of General Villa to the convention at Aguas Calientes. He said he came to pledge by oath his support of the acts of the convention so that no one ever could say he was unpatriotic. He was received with applause. Villa embraced General Obregon over whom his break with Carranza occurred. He then wrote his name on the Mexican flag and kissed the banner.

American Consul Agent Carother reported that Villa's visit has produced a profound impression on the delegates. His pledge is taken to mean that he has withdrawn his original demand that no military man be given the provisional presidency. The belief here is that Gen. Antonio Villareal will be selected.

roadways already had taken action to secure additional revenues through various advances and changes of practice.

"The measures of relief proposed by the commission will not, in my opinion, adequately meet the existing situation," he added.

"The annual statements of all the railroads involved in this proceeding combined, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914," he said, "show roundly that the total operating revenues during that year were approximately $58,000,000, less than during the previous year, while the operating expenses during the same period were approximately $18,000,000 greater."

"The net operating income of these companies for the same period amounted to $23,900,000, or approximately $77,700,000 less than was earned during the previous year, and equal to but 3.8 per cent upon the property investment, a lower return than was shown at any time in 15 years.

"The income, applicable to interest, dividends and surplus, during the fiscal year just closed, was $24,900,000, or 4.02 per cent upon the total capital obligations, this return also being lower than any in 15 years."

BARNES AND MURPHY AKIN SAYS ROOSEVELT

So Thick No Room for Tissue Paper Between Them.

Head of Progressive Party Concludes Two Day Speaking Trip Through Illinois in Behalf of His Candidates.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—"You couldn't get a sheet of tissue paper between them," said Col. Theodore Roosevelt here to-night, speaking of William Barnes and Chas. F. Murphy, Republican and Democratic leaders, respectively, in New York State. "And evidently conditions here are not materially different from what they are in my own state," the Colonel declared.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech wound up a two days' trip in Illinois in the interest of Progressive candidates. He attacked both political parties and the records of Roger Sullivan and Lawrence H. Sherman, Republican and Democratic candidates for Senator from Illinois. Raymond Robins, the Progressive candidate, he said, had passed a life of service to his fellow men. Turning to New York politics Colonel Roosevelt said:

"In Illinois, as in New York, both of the old parties represented privilege in its most offensive form, both political and industrial. In New York, Murphy is in absolute and unchecked control of the Democratic organization and has nominated whoever he saw fit. Barnes is in similar control of the Republican organization."

"A certain section of Wall Street extremists always have demanded for big business complete immunity from control and regulation and secretly big business men of this type are unquestionably supporting the leaders now dominant in both the Democratic and Republican parties for the sake of securing such immunity."

Illinois Progressives, with his approval, Colonel Roosevelt said, had declined offers to enter a deal with Sherman for a junction with Republicans and Lorimer Republicans by which Mr. Sherman and a Progressive candidate would have been chosen to the United States Senate in 1913 when finally Mr. Sherman and Col. James Hamilton Lewis were elected.

ital, they tend to change the fundamental relation between railroad and shipper, for the cost of capital is one of the most important elements of the cost of transportation.

The United States have over $520,000,000 of outstanding obligations which will mature and must be met within the next 12 months. It was shown in the original record in this case that the railroads in official classification territory only had spent approximately $200,000,000 per annum upon their properties for improvements and extensions during the last ten year period, and it will be necessary to continue such expenditures if the roads are to maintain their standard of service and provide for the growing needs of the future.

Members of New York Cotton Exchange Take Informal Action—Vote Taken on Matter Today.

New York, Oct. 19.—Members of the New York Cotton Exchange at a meeting today informally approved amendments to the by-laws which will be voted upon tomorrow. These amendments are designed to meet the requirements of the cotton futures law and it is still anticipated that when the exchange reopens for business fresh trading will be confined to the new style of contract. A special meeting of the board of managers will be held tomorrow, and it is believed a report will be received from the special committee on the plans for a clearing house, which if approved will soon be placed before members of the exchange for consideration. Other plans preliminary to a reorganization of the exchange are said to be making satisfactory progress. Spot cotton was reported a shade easier in the western belt today, and about unchanged to 1/4 higher in eastern belt markets.

ENGLAND ENCOURAGING MARRIAGE OF RECRUITS

Young Women Urged to Marry as Patriotic Duty.

Germany and Austria Take Steps to Protest Themselves Against Falling Birth Rate and Increasing Death Rate.

London, October 3.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Aroused by the positive steps taken by Germany and Austria to protect themselves against a falling birth rate and the telling death rate incidental to the war, England is now encouraging the marriage of recruits soon to go on foreign service.

At the suggestion of the Archbishop of Canterbury the diocesan bishops of the Church of England have made marked decreases in the fees charged soldiers for marriage licenses and clergymen throughout the island are waiving their personal fees.

In Germany and Austria fees for marriages were waived entirely when soldiers and sailors were unable to pay and in many cities clergymen married the warriors and their sweethearts in large companies where the hasty departure of troops made it impossible for separate ceremonies to be held.

Gold wedding rings were done away with and iron rings substituted for the ceremony. Then the married women who already had gold wedding rings offered them as contributions to the war fund and replaced them with rings similar to those worn by the war brides.

German officials frankly discussed the necessity for the marriage of soldiers and urged immediate ceremonies upon young women as a patriotic duty. The war brides were cheered with much enthusiasm and the churches were crowded when the large wedding parties spoke the ceremony in concert.

Although the number of women in England far exceeds that of men, the volunteer army is comparatively small here and most of the recruits are not trained soldiers immediately available for foreign service. Consequently there is not the pressing demand for immediate marriage here that existed on the continent. Still the government realizes the terrible drain the war will make on the virile manhood of Great Britain and is quietly encouraging recruits to marry.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is endeavoring to have the government waive the stamp fee of two dollars and a half which it imposes on each marriage certificate and diocesan bishops have reduced the marriage license fee to two dollars and a half in the case of soldiers and sailors of limited means. Formerly it cost ten dollars to procure a marriage license properly stamped by the government.

The cost is now five dollars and the Archbishop of Canterbury hopes to have it lowered to two and half dollars through the withdrawal of the stamp tax of the government. Clergymen now waive their personal fee in the case of soldiers.

German officials presented to the young women of the empire the slight chance they would have for matrimony after the departure of their soldier sweethearts and called attention to the pension paid to war widows for the support of themselves and their children.

Nearly half a million recruits are quartered in camps scattered throughout England. This new army of Kitchener's probably will not be sent to the continent for at least six months unless some unexpected calamity arises. All the men in the army who have not had previous military experience are less than thirty-five and a majority of them are unmarried.

Many weddings are occurring daily at the various camps and new recruits and their sweethearts are often much distressed to find that under the English law one of the parties to a marriage must have been married at least fifteen days. The Archbishop of Canterbury has suggested that this obstacle be removed by statute.

FOUND DEAD IN STREET HOLE THROUGH HEAD

Charlotte Man Had Threatened to Take His Life.

Because Young Wife, Separated From Husband, Would Not Get Divorce and Marry Him—Fatal Accident.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 19.—With a bullet through his head, Geo. F. Mullis, a white man, 24 years of age, was found dead in the street in North Charlotte this morning about midway between his father's house and the house of Mrs. Essie Warren, whose home he left last night at 10 o'clock, a few minutes before two shots rang out. Several people in the neighborhood heard the shots but made no investigation.

Mullis had threatened to take his own life because Mrs. Warren, a comely young woman of 18 years, would not get a divorce from her husband from whom she had been separated for some time, and marry him. The one shot through his head went straight through from the left side and came out exactly opposite, notwithstanding the fact that he was wearing a hat.

No signs of powder marks about the head. Although suicide is the accepted theory of his friends, the coroner is making an investigation.

Fatal Accident in Union. Eustace and Vance Presson, aged respectively 14 and 9 years, sons of E. E. Presson, a well known citizen of Union county, were rushed to a Charlotte hospital today following an accident at their home this morning. They were grinding an axe on a grindstone, attached to the gearing of a cotton gin when the clothes of the smaller boy caught in the belt. The older boy tried to rescue his brother and both were terribly injured. The arms of the smaller boy were practically wrenched off and one leg broken, while the other suffered a severely fractured hip. The smaller boy died shortly after reaching the hospital. The other will recover.

DUPLIN COUNTY PEOPLE INTERESTED IN AMENDMENTS

Hon. R. D. Johnson is Championing Their Adoption—Some Opposition.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 19.—The proposed amendments to the Constitution of North Carolina are causing considerable interest here as to whether the vote next month will be for or against these amendments.

Hon. R. D. Johnson, who is canvassing Duplin and Pender counties as a candidate for the State Senate, is the only one of the Democratic nominees who is explaining these articles, and some of the leading Democrats, but who are not candidates for any office, have expressed themselves against them, but it is thought that the entire Democratic party of the county will unite for the amendments. The Progressive party of the county is fighting their tooth and nail. This is particularly true of the southern part of the county, in that section surrounding Wallace. It is believed that the majority will vote in favor of the amendments, although no one is caring to predict by what per cent they will be voted.

All of the opposition seems to be centered on amendment VII, and in this connection it can well be said that some dissatisfaction exists here in regard to the manner in which the town taxes are collected, or not collected, as the case may be. Very little work has been done on the streets of the town this summer, and some claim that the taxes have not been collected, while others claim that the proper parties have not been appointed to do this work.

The week which ended yesterday afternoon has been the most successful week that the Warsaw tobacco market has conducted this season, and although the three days of exceedingly rainy weather has kept a large quantity of the leaf from being placed on the market, a good quantity has been sold at the highest prices that have been paid this year.

CLASH OVER JURISDICTION

Mayor McNeill Claims Right to Try Violators of City Ordinances Despite Recorder's Court.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 19.—A clash between the Recorder's court and the mayor of Fayetteville occurred today. Mayor James D. McNeill claims that he has the constitutional right to try violators of city ordinances despite the law creating the Recorder's court, and has been acting accordingly.

Wishing to learn exactly what was being done by the mayor, Von C. Bullard, prosecutor, called on Chief of Police Kelly this morning and asked to be shown the police record of arrests and was refused, being told that the mayor had given orders that no one should see the books.

On convening of the Recorder's court, Chief Kelly was summoned and appeared without the record. He was sent to get it, and again appeared without the book, testifying that he could not produce the record, as the mayor had it in his possession. The case was then continued until Wednesday.

PLAIN TALK No. 3

If a business man went to his home after his day's work in his office and found the chairs in his library dusty; pictures hanging crooked on the wall; the room cold; a general sense of untidiness, uncleanness and general disorder, he would register a kick and howl that would be heard all over the house. And yet — this same man spends his hours of business in an office where intelligent and regular janitor service is unknown, in fact where there are no facilities for such service. He sits through the dirt and dust. His clients and friends call; they do not see; they have become accustomed and hardened to the old order of things. And there lies the point. Few NEW faces do come. There is no attraction. Look this square in the face. Is this the case in your business? Think it over. There is a building in Wilmington which remedies all of these and many other troubles for $12.00 a month and up. Brighton up. Sit around a bit. Get yourself in the Murchison National Bank Building, and be proud of your office quarters. Visit the tenants already in this handsome building; talk to them. They have a message for you.
